Second Try to Oust McCarthy Seems Destined for Deep Freeze

WASHINGTON (AP)—The second attempt in a week to oust Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) from his committee chairmanships seemed destined today to join its companion in a freezer in the Senate Rules Committee.

Sen. Jenner (R-Ind.), Rules Committee chairman, made plain he expects to see no action on the matter when he voiced "doubt" that time remains for it this session of Congress.

It is unlikely the committee would even hold hearings, he added in an interview, because the

Three Sedalians To Boys' State At Warrensburg

Three Sedalia boys will go Saturday to Warrensburg to spend a week attending Missouri Boys' State. Some 600 boys from over the state, 15 to 19 years of age, will be in attendance.

Bob Morgan is going as representative of Rotary, Bobby Case is being sent by Kiwanis, Larry Mines by Legion Post 16.

The boys will stay in dormitories at Central Missouri State College and during the week will undergo training in practical politics.

The whole project is sponsored by the American Legion, Department of Missouri.

The boys must attend one of three schools—law, legislative or peace officers, depending on their political bent.

Two boys will be selected by the executive committee to attend Boys' Nation in Washington this summer.

Meadow Gold Remodels Former Beverly's Bldg. As Offices for Plant

The Meadow Gold Creamery Co. is having the former location of Beverly's Snack Shop, 520 South Ohio, remodeled to provide offices for the plant, which is located on Sixth immediately behind the building.

All the records for the Meadow Gold operations in Booneville, Clinton, Jefferson City, Moberly and Mexico will be housed here.

The Sedalia plant manufactures all of the Meadow Gold ice cream for the state of Missouri, as well as quite a large volume for Iowa, and all the distribution records will be handled here.

In this newly remodeled, air conditioned office there will be private offices for the executives of the local plant, as well as a general office. Something new for the Sedalia operations will be a room set aside for sales, where all transactions of this manner can be managed.

The rear of the building there will be a driver check room, where each driver comes after his route to check in, and give information concerning his day's sales. The interior decorations will consist of a varied color scheme, as well as a marbleite tile floor. The switchboard for the plant will be located there.

Border Revolt Brewing

Armed Guatemalans, Exiles, Reported Massing on Frontier In Honduras Area

TEGUIGALPA, Honduras (AP)—Armed Guatemalan exiles were reported massing along their jittery homeland's frontier with Honduras amid indications today may be a day for a revolt against President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman's Communist-influenced regime.

The belief stemmed in part from Guatemalan Ambassador Amadeo Chinchilla, who said he had received reports that resistance forces would launch a rebellion today.

Reports from censorship-blanketed Guatemala said authorities there were readying a massive public demonstration today. Ostensibly this was to show solid support for the government, but observers here also interpreted it as a possible move to mobilize pro-Arbenz forces in case of a revolt.

Dispatches from Guatemala said 100,000 laborers were expected to parade through the streets of Guatemala City.

Here in the Honduran capital, armed khaki-clad men—apparently recruits for the exile resistance movement directed from here by Carlos Castillo Armas—continued to leave the city, presumably for the border.

A two-engine transport plane with drawn curtains alighted a dozen men out of Tegucigalpa last night. The group carried side arms and lugged a radio and several wooden crates aboard.

Earlier reports said an armed boat pulled out of the Honduran port of La Ceiba and headed for Guatemala. Informants said it was moving into position for a strike against the major Guatemalan port of Puerto Barrios.

Col. Rodolfo Mendoza, former chief of the Guatemalan air force, was interviewed over the exiles' secret radio last night. This indicated he might already be near the border.

Castillo Armas, however, was still at his headquarters in Tegucigalpa yesterday. In a rallying call from there, he said his forces "will not cease our victorious fight until we eradicate communism and ex-pell Arbenz and his followers from the sacred soil of Guatemala."

There was no accurate estimate of the number under Castillo Armas' command. One of his aides said the resistance forces have 5,000 men poised near the border. Chinchilla said some 300 men have been spotted near the frontier.

Nor was there any accurate gauge of the support Arbenz could expect from his armed forces in case of rebellion.

Guatemala boasts a compact, well-trained army of 6,000 regulars and some 57,000 reservists. There have been persisting reports, however, that most of the officers might break with Arbenz to head an outright Red regime in the Caribbean republic. A number of officers, besides the former air force chief, have fled the country in recent weeks.

U.S. concern over the situation in Guatemala came to a head last month when a 10-million-dollar cargo of arms was landed in the Caribbean port of Stettin. Since then the United States has attempted to prevent any more arms from reaching Guatemala.

A State Department official disclosed in Washington yesterday that the United States is trying to get major shipping nations to set up an embargo against delivering arms to Guatemala.

Expect Premier To Go to Geneva For Peace Talks

GENEVA (AP)—French sources expressed belief today that France's new premier, Pierre Mendes-France, will fly to Geneva Monday to take part in the Indo-China peace talks.

These sources said Mendes-France is expected to take over the post of foreign minister himself in the new Cabinet and give his full personal attention to the Indo-China problem. He has promised to resign unless an Indo-China settlement has been reached by July 20.

Most diplomats here were reluctant to comment on the French National Assembly's approval of Mendes-France.

British sources said that, in view of his statements on the Far-Eastern fighting, chances of a settlement might be increased by his approval as premier. Some other delegations expressed private views, however, that a rift might develop among the Western powers if Mendes-France made concessions which the United States would not agree to.

Addressing the National Assembly in Paris yesterday, Mendes-France advanced no concrete peace proposals. Instead he said (1) his government will continue with the Geneva talks; (2) France will not get out of the Far East; and (3) he will take all measures "necessary" for peace. This latter was construed in Paris as a willingness to enter direct negotiations with Ho Chi Minh, the Communist Vietnamese leader.

Robbers Bind Couple, Eat Lunch, Listen To Fight, Then Leave

BOSTON (AP)—Four masked gunmen invaded a Brighton district apartment last night, bound a husband and wife, enjoyed the Mariano-Chavez fight on radio, ate a snack, drank liquor, and then carted off almost $10,000 worth of antiques and silverware.

While the four gunmen had the run of the apartment for some three hours, Alex Levkoff, 40, his wife, Selma, 36, lay gagged and bound with belts, drapery cords and sheets.

The Levkoffs said the men warned them they would get shot if they made any moves.

Air Academy Site Opponents Give Reasons

Say Proposed School Would Displace Families

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Opponents of the proposed Chautauqua, Ill., site for the Air Force Academy today protested that location would displace hundreds of families and would be detrimental to the academy itself.

They said the 19,000-acre site, one of three under consideration, would be a prime target for an atomic or H-bomb attack because it lies close to important military and industrial facilities.

Leaders of the Landowners Association Against the Air Academy claiming to speak for 99 per cent of the residents in the proposed site, outlined their view at a news conference in the Jefferson Hotel here.

Joseph E. Knight, big, balding chairman of the group, said choice of the Chautauqua site some 22 miles north of St. Louis would be "a catastrophe."

"They ought to choose a site that won't leave so many homeless and without a means of livelihood," said Knight, owner of a 1,000-acre farm within the site. Knight added his family had lived in the area 130 years.

John F. Gibbons, an attorney for Jerseyville, Ill., read a lengthy statement in which he said the 2,500 cadets at the academy could be wiped out in an atomic attack.

Also speaking in opposition to the location were G. E. Hamlin of the Principia College at Elsah, Ill., Fred A. Duhadway of the New Plaza Chautauqua Association, and Arthur H. Harder, president of the Illinois Power Co.

Duhadway denounced the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce and the Greater Alton (Ill.) Association of Commerce, sponsors of the Chautauqua site, and said the Chautauqua group had been denied a hearing in the matter.

A team of Air Force technicians, which recently inspected the location, appeared, Duhadway said, "under the guard, guidance and companionship" of the two Chambers of Commerce and would not hear representatives of the Chautauqua Association as "basically a religious corporation operating not for profit."

Man, Angry With Welch, Protests End of Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—A tall, Bible-toting man came to the Capitol today to protest the end of the McCarthy-Army hearings. He was taken to a hospital for mental observation.

Police Lt. Lewis Disney said the man identified himself as Kenneth Paul Rodriguez of West Hampstead, N.Y.

Disney said he first encountered the man shortly before 9 a.m. and that the man alternately asked for Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and read from his Bible.

"He told me," Disney said, "that he wanted to see McCarthy to protest the end of the hearings. He wanted them to go on. He kept asking me to entrance Sen. McCarthy used vile language against Welch (Army Attorney Joseph N. Welch of Boston) for questioning the existence of God."

During the hearings Welch began one statement to McCarthy with the words, "If there is a God in Heaven..."

Disney said Rodriguez was proclaiming loudly that there was no doubt about there being a God in Heaven and was angry with Welch for using the "if."

Disney said the man was ushered from the building once but returned and was then taken into custody and sent to a hospital. The officer added:

"We knew there was something wrong when he said he wanted the hearings to go on."

Bids Opened for Job Of Wiring at Capitol

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Apparent low bidder on the job of rewiring Missouri Capital buildings here for alternating current was Gimp Electric Co. of St. Louis with a $399,000 figure.

Bids were opened here yesterday. Next low bid was from Electric Service Co. of St. Louis at $422,000.

An appropriation of $475,000 has been passed to make the change-over so the state's worn out direct current power plant can be abandoned.

Premier Forming Cabinet

New French Chief Working Urgently For Government And Geneva Peace

PARIS (AP)—France's new Premier, Pierre Mendes-France, worked urgently today to form a Cabinet. He may keep for himself the foreign ministry—replacing Georges Bidault—and seek a peace in Indochina through personal meetings at Geneva with the Communists.

French sources reported the new Premier will go to Geneva Monday to fill the diplomatic gap left when Joseph Laniel's government fell.

Mendes-France received a stream of visitors in an office at the Bourbon Palace, home of the National Assembly. He is under pressure to set up a Cabinet speedily to make good on his promise to achieve an Indo-China settlement by July 20—or resign.

If Mendes-France takes over the foreign ministry he will be one of the rare "new faces" there since the war. Bidault and a fellow member of the Popular Republican Movement Robert Schuman, have been named as foreign minister most of the time since 1945.

The National Assembly vote for Mendes-France, 47-year-old Radical Socialist (Moderate), was 419 to 47, with 154 deputies abstaining. The abstainers included members of Bidault's party, whose leaders said MRP would not serve in the new government.

Mendes-France became France's 14th postwar Premier. His Cabinet will be the nation's 20th in the 10 years since liberation.

His three-point program, outlined to the Assembly yesterday, included the promise to reach an Indo-China settlement by July 20 or get out. After peace in Indochina was achieved, he said, he would:

1. Submit a "coherent and detailed program for economic recovery."

2. Attempt to reconcile the divisions within France on the European Defense Community Treaty to rearm West Germans in a six-nation European army. Of the six nations, France and Italy still must ratify it.

Bidault's absence from the new government appeared certain after his Popular Republican Movement (MRP) announced it would not take part in Mendes-France's Cabinet.

Mendes-France told the Assembly:

"If the conflict in Indochina is not settled—and settled quickly—it is the risk of war, of an international war and perhaps an atomic war—that must be envisaged."

He did not outline any precise continuation of the Geneva talks and a promise that no measure would be neglected that shows itself necessary to this end. This implied direct negotiations with Ho Chi Minh, Moscow-tutored leader of the Vietnamese rebels in Indochina. Mendes-France has consistently urged such negotiations in the past.

The new Premier declared, however, that every possible precaution would be taken to safeguard France's forces in Indochina. He also declared his plan did not envisage a surrender.

"France does not have to accept and will not accept conditions for settlement which would be in conflict with its most vital interests," he declared. "France will remain loyal to the Far East. Neither our allies, nor our enemies must harbor the least doubt on the meaning of our determination."

Today's Assembly vote saw Communists, Socialists, Radical Socialists, a big bloc of De Gaulists and scatters from other parties lined up behind Mendes-France. Independent Republicans and MRP members mostly abstained, but eight MRP's disobeyed party orders to vote for confirmation.

These eight gave Mendes-France six votes more than the needed 314 votes, even without the 99 Communists and fellow travelers who balloted for him. The Premier had warned the Assembly earlier he would not accept the premiership if his majority was made possible by Communist votes.

The victory made the economic and financial expert France's 14th Premier since the liberation. His Cabinet will be the nation's 20th postwar government.

A brilliant orator, Mendes-France failed by 13 votes to win the premiership during a 37-day government crisis last year. The job was finally won then by former Premier Joseph Laniel, who resigned Saturday after losing an Assembly confidence vote on the Indochina issue.

One outburst of hot tempers left three injured at the Western sectors' rally called to commemorate the uprising in the East. The crowd pummeled six Communist hecklers who were rescued by flying squads of police.

West Berlin Passes Riot Anniversary

Benner Constructing Central News Building

Forrest Benner is having a new building constructed at 2100 West Main, for his Central News Agency. He plans to move to the new location, from 612 South Ohio, when the building is completed.

The structure, of concrete blocks, will face south and will be located on the north side of Main. It will have 3,000 square feet of space with an office and large storage room.

When the move is made Benner will discontinue his retail outlet on South Ohio and will concentrate on wholesale service only, serving an area of almost 100 miles around Sedalia with three truck routes.

Boys On Canoe Trip Like Meals Ashore

CHESTER, Ill. (AP)—Two young sailors, helping their father paddle his 17-foot canoe 1,050 miles down the Mississippi River, still enjoy an occasional meal ashore.

But Frank Mason of St. Louis says the meal stops have not disrupted the time schedule of his New Orleans bound voyage.

Mason and his two sons, James, 14, and Richard, 12, must reach their destination by July 2 so he can return to work as a clerk with the Terminal Railroad Assn.

He confided to a restaurant patron here yesterday that "the boys paddle much better when they're promised lunch in the next river town."

Mrs. Harper Wins Damages Of $13,055

Jury Decides Case In Her Favor Over Death of Husband

Mrs. Allene Harper, of the Harper School of Artistic Dance, Sedalia, was given judgment of $13,055 in her damage suit against the Associated Transports Inc., St. Louis, arising from the fatal accident to her husband Edward Harper, on April 30, 1952.

The case was tried in the Henry County Circuit Court at Clinton, Wednesday and Thursday before Judge Kimberlain of Harrisonville, Mo., 17th Judicial Circuit, who was hearing the case for Judge Dewey Thatch who is ill.

A jury deliberated for an hour and three minutes before it returned the verdict in favor of Mrs. Harper.

The accident occurred one fourth mile east of the Harper home near the junction of Highway 135 and 50, while Harper was riding his horse along the pavement of Highway 50. Harper lost his life as the horse and truck ran together, throwing Harper from his mount and the horse on top of him. He died instantly.

The transport truck carrying a load of Ford automobiles was driven by Raymond Eaton of Williamsville, Mo., and was enroute to Kansas City from St. Louis.

It was represented by John Martin and William Gilson of Sedalia and Barkley Brock of Clinton.

Kelso Journey and William Cason of Clinton represented Mrs. Harper.

Moose Lodge To New Location About July 15

The Sedalia Moose Lodge 1494 is moving from its present location, in the old post office building, Second and Lamine, to 114 East Second, the store area now occupied by the Sedalia Trading Post.

The Moose Lodge was organized in Sedalia in November, 1949, and has been located in its present quarters since that time. Many improvements have been made at the present location, but the increasing of membership has forced the organization to seek larger accommodations.

The new location will be recalled by old timers as the old Hildebrandt Hotel and Cafe.

The building is being completely renovated, present fixtures of the lodge, which are practically new, are being moved here, and numerous other improvements are to be made. The second floor of the building will not be put into use at the present time.

It is the plan to move from the old post office to the new location on July 15.

French Defense Group Disapproves European Army Treat In Report

PARIS (AP)—The national defense committee of the French Assembly adopted a report today disapproving the European army treaty. The vote was 29-13. Among those voting against EDC were four Socialist deputies, who risked party discipline.

The document was never made public because Atty. Gen. Brownell ruled it "unauthorized" to release secret material, and that to release it would be contrary to the national interest.

McCarthy said he had the paper from an Army intelligence officer. He declined to disclose his name.

Arguments cropped up repeatedly in the hearings as to whether McCarthy could properly receive such a paper. McCarthy contended he had every right to it as chairman of the senate's government operations committee and head of the permanent investigations subcommittee.

McClellan said the investigations subcommittee, which McCarthy heads, should decide quickly:

1. What to do about two members of its staff who, he said, have not received clearance requested from the Defense Department to handle secret documents.

2. What to do about "threats" that have been made by members of the staff—I will say alleged threats—in an attempt to intimidate members of the committee, which conducted the hearings.

McClellan cited a flaptrap between Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel of the investigations subcommittee, and Robert F. Kennedy, counsel to the subcommittee's Democratic members, in which Kennedy contended Cohn threatened to "get" Sen. Jackson. McClellan said this was among the things he had in mind in charging attempted intimidation "but is by no means all inclusive" of the charge.

Cohn denies he told Kennedy he would "get to" a question raised by Jackson when the next hearing,

Demos Ask Decision On Any Prosecution For Perjury Charges

Minority Party Members on Subcommittee Call for Administration to Consider Moves For Criminal Cases Following Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) today denounced as "dishonest, completely dangerous to the country" the questions raised by Democrats asking whether a "house-cleaning" is needed on the staff of the McCarthy investigations subcommittee.

"We've got the most efficient, loyal, hardworking staff we could possibly get," McCarthy said, adding he is "completely satisfied" with every member.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.), speaking for the Democrats, said there should also be a fast decision as to whether there is need for an "immediate house cleaning" on the staff of the McCarthy investigations subcommittee.

"Until these matters receive attention and action," Sen. McClellan said, he will oppose the start of any further hearings, public or closed, by McCarthy's subcommittee.

McClellan said he feels the White House is confronted with the question of "what action should be taken against the members of the executive branch of the government who were principals?"

A reporter asked whether the senator meant any or all of Security of the Army, Stevens, Army Counselor John G. Adams, and H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense. The investigators dismissed charges against Hensel in a 4-3 vote.

"They were principals," McClellan replied.

McClellan held a news conference after the subcommittee met behind closed doors to discuss the problem of preparing reports on the hearings. The meeting reached no decisions.

Sens. Symington (Mo.) and Jackson (Wash.), the other two Democratic members, met reporters with McClellan and said they concurred in his views.

Sen. McCarthy could not be reached for comment on McClellan's statements. His office staff said they assumed he and Mrs. McCarthy had left on a brief vacation.

Even before the Democrats, one Republican had talked of possible perjury in the hearings. Sen. Potter (R-Mich.) said in a statement last night that he believed basic charges of "pressure" and "blackmail" had been proved. He added:

"There is little doubt that the testimony of witnesses of both sides was saturated with statements which were not truthful and which might constitute perjury in a legal sense."

McClellan said he feels the wind-up of the hearings leaves to "immediate" problems for the executive branch of the government to consider:

1. A Justice Department inquiry to determine "if perjury has been committed" in the sharply contradictory testimony.

2. "The probability of a crime having been committed in connection with the 214 page document" which came into controversy in the hearings.

Sen. McCarthy produced this paper, first identifying it as a letter from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover to Army intelligence. The subcommittee checked with Hoover and was advised it was not a letter by him but did contain excerpts from a lengthy FBI report to the Army on security problems at Ft. Monmouth, N.J.

The document was never made public because Atty. Gen. Brownell ruled it "unauthorized" to release secret material, and that to release it would be contrary to the national interest.

McCarthy said he had the paper from an Army intelligence officer. He declined to disclose his name.

Arguments cropped up repeatedly in the hearings as to whether McCarthy could properly receive such a paper. McCarthy contended he had every right to it as chairman of the senate's government operations committee and head of the permanent investigations subcommittee.

Cohn denies he told Kennedy he would "get to" a question raised by Jackson when the next hearing, was held.

McClellan said he personally had received a message—not in writing—which he considers "unrepeatable."

"I sent it back to the sender," he said declining to give the sender's name.

Chairman Mundt (R-SD) told reporters the closed door meeting of the subcommittee was given over to a discussion of problems involved in getting out a report.

He said it was impossible to fix a target date for issuance of a report, but that all the subcommittee members agreed they hoped to finish the task before Congress adjourns.

Mundt said he doubted any recommendations on individual members of the regular (McCarthy) staff would be made before the group issues a report.

Stevens Says Army Integrity Was Proved

Confidently Avows The Service's Truth No Longer at Stake

QUANTICO, Va. (AP)—Secretary of the Army Stevens, looking back on the long and bitter days of his dispute with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), voiced confidence today that "the integrity of the Army no longer is at stake."

He also made it plain he intends to decline an invitation to an after-hearings cocktail party to be given Monday by Sen. Mundt (R-SD) for participants on both sides—and expects no Army personnel will attend.

Mundt presided over the 36-day hearings, which ended in Washington yesterday.

Stevens, here for a four-day meeting of top Defense Department and armed forces officials, also told newsmen:

1. "I am absolutely confident that there will be no abuse of Army personnel, in or out of uniform," who appear from now on before McCarthy's Communist-hunting subcommittee. One of the background issues in the row with the senator was Stevens' contention that a general had been abused.

2. He has no intention "whatever" of resigning, but proposes to serve as long as he is of "service to the country."

3. "I feel that the integrity of the Army was at stake. We've been through that now. It must be abundantly clear to everyone that the Army is just as interested and active in riding itself of subversives as anyone else in the United States."

In expressing confidence there would be no abuse of Army personnel before McCarthy or any other committee, Stevens said there would be cooperation, that from the start of my term of office we have consistently cooperated with all members (of Congress) and members (of the military) to continue that policy."

Secretary of Defense Wilson, who called this meeting of high military and defense officials, expressed his own views about combating communism in a chat with reporters last night.

He said he thought free men could and must counter communism "without subscribing to some of the things we would finally be willing to fight to avoid."

Brownell Hits McCarthy Idea Of Information

BALTIMORE — Atty. Gen. Brownell said last night Sen. McCarthy's invitation to government employees to come to him with information, even information they are charged with keeping secret:

1. Threatens the classic American concept of separation of powers among Congress, the executive and the courts.

2. "Would substitute rule by an individual for government by law."

About 500 weekly newspaper editors and publishers attending the 69th annual convention of the National Editorial Assn. broke in to applaud when the attorney general declared:

"Anyone who attempts to put himself above the law, and incite government employees to turn over classified information relating to our national security, is tragically mistaken if he believes he is helping to protect our nation's safety."

"Nothing pleases the Communists more than to create division among the people on matters of national security, impair constitutional government, and encourage disobedience to the law."

"I have spoken out pretty strongly against those in high places who are blind to the danger of Communist infiltration in our government. I believe it equally breaks down our system of government by law in efforts to investigate communism. There is no need for it."

Brownell did not mention McCarthy (R-Wis) by name. But he quoted verbatim the statement McCarthy made during the Army-McCarthy hearings that it was the duty of federal employees "to give any information which they have."

Brownell said this "open invitation to violate the laws of the United States would substitute rule by an individual for government by law."

He went on:

"Long years of experience have proved that direction and control of military secrets, intelligence information and counterintelligence belong to the executive branch."

"During all our history, the ordinary auditing powers of the congress, plus its broad powers to legislate and its broad powers to control the purse strings have sufficed to provide the necessary checks on the executive branch. That is a better system than destroying our constitutional system of separation of powers—an action which our founding fathers warned would result in tyranny."

Adlai Stevenson Takes Shots At GOP In Speech

DETROIT — Adlai Stevenson took shots at the Republican party yesterday while Michigan Democrats sought to avoid political bloodshed in their own party.

The 1932 Democratic presidential candidate's theme in his one-day tour through Lower Michigan was the Republican party of today is "incapable of governing the country."

Michigan Democrats, faced with contests for two key posts in the Aug. 3 primary, were careful to avoid incidents among rival candidates in their party.

Patrick McNamara, rival of former Sen. Blair Moody for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Senator, refused an invitation to accompany Stevenson on his tour. Moody jumped into the junkie Stevenson party and accompanied him in Lansing, Davison and Detroit. He skipped only a garden party sponsored by "Volunteer Democrats" in suburban Birmingham.

Moody also took the opportunity to stand with Stevenson in a reception line for 3,000 Wayne, Oakland and Monroe County Democrats in Detroit's Masonic Temple. McNamara, attending only the Detroit function, refused the chance.

Stevenson predicted the Democrats will win the House of Representatives next fall and said prospects were good for winning the U.S. Senate too.

He said he did not think the Republican farm policy is "going in the right direction."

Judge 'Sentences' Youth to Get Haircut

BALTIMORE — The "drape-style" haircut of 16-year-old John Powell was transformed by court order yesterday into a crew cut similar to the one adorning the head of the officer who arrested him.

Patrolman Joseph Engle picked up young Powell to ask him what he was doing on a fire escape in the early morning hours.

When Powell appeared in court, Magistrate Reuben Caplan was too fascinated with the long temple locks which ended in ducktails at the back of the head to even hear the case.

"You look like a wild man," commented the judge. He told young Powell to get his hair cut "like Patrolman Engle's" and return.

When he returned, the judge inspected the job, then dismissed Powell.

Leave Big Phone Bill

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — Two guests at the Senator Hotel checked out by a rear window yesterday. Their default of payment of the $8 room bill didn't bother Night Manager William Holved very much.

It was the unpaid $55 bill for a 1,000-mile overseas telephone call to Nassau in the British West Indies that rankled, he told police.

McCarthy-Army Highlights...

Conflicting Charges Become Mass of Conflicting Testimony

WASHINGTON — The televised probe of the McCarthy-Army row started out with a tangle of conflicting charges and wound up with a mass of conflicting testimony.

The drama, played out before the Senate Investigations subcommittee and a vast TV audience, ranged far from the original outline before the lights went out in the Senate caucus room late yesterday.

For 36 days, beginning April 22, the hearings went on—compounded of a mixture of charges made and denied, of moments of furor and humor, of political infighting, of the strengths and weaknesses of men.

The big-name antagonists were Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.), the subcommittee's regular chairman, and Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens, appointed soon after the Eisenhower administration came into office in January 1953.

McCarthy and two of his aides were accused by Stevens and Army Counselor John G. Adams of exerting improper pressures on the Army in an effort to win preferential treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a former unpaid subcommittee consultant.

To this the McCarthy side retorted that Stevens and Adams had used Schine as a "hostage" in an attempt to "blackmail" the subcommittee into dropping a search for Communists in the Army.

At the windup, neither had backed down.

In his opening statement, Acting Chairman Mundt (R-S.D.) described the charges as "a grave and serious nature." He stated this aim: "To make a full and impartial effort to reveal that which is true and to expose that which is false."

From that beginning flowed like 134 million words of testimony and oratory.

The first witness called, tall and trim in his uniform, was Maj. Gen. Miles Reber, former chief Army liaison officer at the Capitol and now a commander of U.S. troops in Germany.

Reber said McCarthy told him last July 8 that he was "very much interested in obtaining" a direct Army commission for Schine and felt Schine was "fully qualified."

When McCarthy later took the witness chair, he swore he never asked for a commission for Schine. He said he had inquired of Reber only whether Schine was qualified and how to go about applying for a commission.

This was just one of the many conflicting statements now being studied by the Justice Department to determine whether anyone should be prosecuted for perjury.

Secretary Stevens, who did the longest stint in the witness chair, also testified on the opening day and detailed incidents he said showed continuing efforts by McCarthy and his aides from July to mid-February to win favors for Schine.

He said requests in behalf of Schine ranged from several for a direct commission for the wealthy New Yorker before he was indicted into the Army last Nov. 3 to many for special assignments, relief from routine KP duties, and extra time off while he was in training at Ft. Dix, N.J.

"During my tenure as secretary of the Army," Stevens said, "there is no record that matches this persistent, tireless effort to obtain special consideration and privileges for this man." He called it an example "of the wrongful seeking of privilege, of the perversion of power."

What did McCarthy have to say about these charges? "I state under oath they are untrue," he said.

And just as emphatically McCarthy swore that his countercharges against Stevens and Adams "are true."

At the first hearing McCarthy made a statement that, in one form or another, was to be repeated over and over.

Fear Five Yanks Fall Into Hands Of Vietnam Reds

SAIGON, Indochina — Five U.S. Air Force men stationed at a French air base in Tourane are missing and American officials fear they may have fallen into the hands of the Communist-led Vietminh.

The U.S. Embassy said a Vietnamese peasant had reported seeing five Americans among a group of 20 Senegalese war prisoners 10 miles south of Tourane.

Gen. John O'Daniel, chief of the American aid group, flew today to Tourane on the central Viet Nam coast midway between Saigon and Hanoi to conduct an enquiry.

The Americans, whose names were withheld, left the big Tourane air base Monday afternoon and drove off in a French vehicle to a beach three miles away. Officials said they had no passes and were not authorized to leave the base.

Their absence was discovered when they failed to report for roll call Tuesday morning.

Vietnamese said they saw the group in swimming trunks at the beach target-shooting with carbines. No weapons were reported missing from the base, however.

Some 35 U.S. technicians are based at Tourane repairing B26 bombers America has supplied the French.

Her Boiled Ham Is Store's Money

OMAHA — Mrs. Joseph O. Hebenstreit was thinking of a boiled ham sandwich when she opened a meat package from her grocery store.

What she found in the package was the store's bank deposit.

How the bundle of checks and $31 cash got wrapped up as boiled ham nobody knows — but anyway Hebenstreit ate steak instead of boiled ham. The grocer gave her two choice steaks as a reward for returning the money.

committee began its investigation. Stevens and Adams testified some suspensions took place before the subcommittee hearing began; they said the McCarthy probe speeded up the suspension of other employees. And they said McCarthy turned up only some minor new information about one person.

The Army secretary testified: "I did not need sparing by anyone to weed out subversives. He said he had asked the FBI as early as April 1953 to undertake a full-scale investigation at Ft. Monmouth."

McCarthy said the Army had ignored warnings from the FBI. He and Cohn testified that Stevens and Adams repeatedly tried to get the subcommittee to halt its investigation, lest Stevens be forced to resign.

Stevens testified he felt the Army was being "hammered over the head" by the type of publicity McCarthy was giving out after closed hearings.

"I did not welcome the damaging effect upon the Army of Sen. McCarthy's statements to the press which gave the impression that there was much current espionage at Ft. Monmouth," which was not the case," Stevens testified.

Also in dispute was whether, as McCarthy contended, Stevens had planned to relieve Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton from his command at Ft. Monmouth "in reprisal" for cooperating with the subcommittee.

Stevens said he had considered relieving Lawton, but only because of "unfortunate" statements by Lawton about Communist suspects being graduates of certain universities.

Another issue that roiled the hearings was touched off by Adams' testimony about a Jan. 21 meeting at the Justice Department attended by Atty. Gen. Brownell, Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams and other aides of President Eisenhower.

Adams said they discussed McCarthy's move to call Army loyalty board members for questioning. He said he believed this stemmed from his saying that Schine might be assigned overseas.

Sherman Adams suggested to him, he said, that he put in writing an account of the whole Schine matter. Such an account was the basis for the Army's charges.

Air Force Shifts Heavy Bombers Over To SAC In Japan

TOKYO — The Air Force today shifted its heavy bombers in the Far East to the Strategic Air Command — carrier of atomic weapons — and said the big planes would be moved from Japan to Guam.

The Air Force said a wing of four-engine B50s would be flown to Guam for training.

B29s of the Far East Air Forces now based in Japan will be flown to Guam and put under control of SAC, the Air Force said. Actual transfer of the B29s now at Yokota Air Base near here will begin soon.

Eventually, SAC will replace the B29s with B50s and other aircraft. The Superforts which dropped the atom bombs on Japan and bombed North Korea for 37 months are headed for retirement.

Bobo to Reno To Get Divorce From Rockefeller

CHICAGO — Barbara Sears (Bobo) Rockefeller headed for Reno today and a divorce from multimillionaire Winthrop Rockefeller.

In a brief stop in Chicago late yesterday, the Cinderella bride of 1948 disclosed that her husband also is on the way to Reno to complete terms of a property settlement.

Bobo refused to go into details of the settlement, which calls for Rockefeller to pay her $12 million plus a half-million-dollar trust fund.

Rockefeller, 42, is due in Reno shortly from his home in Arkansas to sign the financial settlement and a separation stipulation that will pave the way for the divorce from the 37-year-old blonde daughter of an immigrant coal miner from Lithuania.

Mrs. Bobo came to financial terms last Jan. 8 after four years of bitter wrangling. Final details of settlement were ironed out before Bobo left New York Wednesday night.

Bobo retains custody of their 5-year-old son Winthrop Paul, who was left in New York with her friends while she stays in Reno. Rockefeller gets visiting rights.

Jackie Gleason Gives Wife a Separation

NEW YORK — Television star Jackie Gleason has signed an agreement giving his wife a separation, custody of their two children and 14 1/2 per cent of his gross salary in alimony.

Terms of the agreement between Jackie and his wife Genevieve were announced yesterday in a written statement which corrected a previous report that the alimony figure would be 15 per cent.

Gleason earned $336,000 last year. If his earnings continue on that scale, the payments will amount to nearly $50,000 a year.

Gleason claims he retained only $83,000 after taxes in 1953.

The Gleasons were married in 1936.

Russia and Iran Sign New Barter Agreement

TEHRAN, Iran — Russia and Iran have signed a new barter agreement sharply stepping up Soviet shipments of industrial equipment and durable goods.

In the new pact — effective May 1, 1954, through March 31, 1955 — Russia pledges to send 68 million rials worth of agricultural machinery to Iran, plus 20 million rials worth of electrical equipment. Iran will send fish, lead, tin, ore, skins and other products.

In last year's pact the total such shipment reached only 32 million rials. The rial's official rate is 32.5 to the dollar.

Tom Tully to Wed

SANTA MONICA, Calif. — Actor Tom Tully and Mrs. Mildred Johnson of Salt Lake City, who obtained a marriage license yesterday, plan to be married Sunday.

Polish Captain Fears for Fate Of His Family

TAIPEH, Formosa — A Polish tank captain granted political asylum by Nationalist China said today his wife and two daughters in Poland will be punished cruelly for his defection.

"They will be thrown out of our flat; my wife won't be able to get a job and maybe will be imprisoned; my two daughters will be expelled from school," Capt. Leonard Masowski told a news conference.

Masowski and 11 other officers and crewmen aboard the 8207-ton tanker Praca, seized last October by a Nationalist gunboat east of Formosa, were granted political asylum yesterday.

The skipper said a dispute with the political officer aboard the Praca would have meant 10 years in prison for him had he returned to Poland. And the other 11 refugees would have been jailed because they are his friends.

The political officer and 17 other crewmen are to be repatriated to Poland by the International Red Cross.

Homebuilder Gives Cigars for Birth Of Five Ducklings

SEAFORD, N. Y. — Homebuilder Louis Hirsch passed out cigars yesterday in celebration of the hatching of five little ducklings—an event which meant he could now get back to work.

He said he plans to have a bulldozer and crew back on the job Monday, resuming a ground-clearing job that for 25 days has been held up to permit a nesting wild Mallard duck to hatch her brood.

Hirsch said he figures the delay in the construction job, involving the erection of 49 new homes, has cost him about $6,000.

"It was worth it, though," he said.

Man's Candidacy Poses a Problem

DETROIT — The candidacy of William Allan for a City Council post has created a tough legal problem.

Allan, correspondent for the Communist Daily Worker, has been convicted of violating the Smith Act by conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government by force and violence. He now is free on bond pending an appeal.

Michigan's Trucks Act bars subversives from running for office. But the constitutionality of that act now is before the courts.

So the City Election Commission has asked for legal advice as to whether Allan's name can be placed on the ballot.

Allan Jones' Wife Of 18 Years Gets Decree

LOS ANGELES — Actress Irene Hervey divorced singer Allan Jones yesterday after 18 years of marriage.

She sobbed after testifying their separation last April in San Francisco "was a real shock to me," and: "He told me he didn't love me any more and that he wanted to live his own life and live alone."

Miss Hervey charged cruelty. Superior Judge Otto Emme took under consideration an agreement by which Jones will pay $1,000 monthly alimony and $200 a month for support of their son John, 16.

Congress Highlights . . .

WASHINGTON — With 36 days of televised public hearings behind them, seven members of the Senate Investigations subcommittee prepare to go into secret session to start analyzing the evidence they have gathered on the McCarthy-Army row.

At the end of the hearings yesterday, Sen. Potter (R-Mich.), one of the seven "judges," said he felt each side had convicted the other of "pressure" and "blackmailing" charges. He also suggested a perjury case might be made against some of those who testified.

TAXES — The Senate Finance Committee may formally approve at a closed meeting a bill to overhaul the nation's tax laws. The House — passed, administration-backed measure would cut an assortment of taxes by about $1,400,000,000 in its first year of operation.

APPROPRIATIONS — The Senate passes a 29-billion-dollar-plus appropriation bill for national defense in the fiscal year just ahead. The bill now goes to a Senate-House conference for adjustment of differences in versions approved by the two chambers.

Miss Joanne Lee Kurtz Becomes Bride Of Mr. R. L. Peters at Marengo, Iowa

In an impressive ceremony in the St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed Church of Marengo, Ia., Miss Joanne Lee Kurtz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester S. Kurtz, Des Moines, Ia., and granddaughter of Mrs. Lela Lee, Sedalia, became the bride of Mr. Richard Lee Peters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Peters, Marengo, Iowa, on Friday, June 4. Large bouquets of white peonies and coral-bells and shasta daisies and seven branch wrought iron candelabra, holding white candles, formed the altar setting for the exchange of vows in the double ring service performed by the Rev. E. Jansmann.

Mrs. E. Jansmann, Marengo, at the organ, played the nuptial music and accompanied Miss Noreen Gould, Cedar Rapids, who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Carolyn Kurtz, Des Moines, sister of the bride, in a dress of powder blue shade, and Linda Hoyt of Marengo, cousin of the bride, in a pink dress, lighted the candles. Both wore corsages of baby pink roses.

In a gown of imported Chantilly lace and nylon tulle over white satin, the bride was given in marriage by her father. The fitted formal bodice of her gown was covered with a brief lace jacket that buttoned in the front and was finished at the neckline with a small collar. Long sleeves tapered to points over the wrists and the full waltz length skirt combined the lace with a wide flounce of nylon tulle. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white roses.

Miss Carol Peters, Marengo, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. Her gown was also of waltz length and combined Chantilly lace and nylon net over blue taffeta. The lace bodice was made with brief sleeves and low rounded neckline. She carried a Colonial bouquet of blue and white carnations.

Mr. Marvin Bigbee, Marengo, served Mr. Peters as best man and ushers were Mr. Larry Peters, Shellsburg, Ia., and Mr. Dwight Jansmann, Marengo.

The bride's mother chose a light brown sheer dress with brown and white accessories for her daughter's wedding and her corsage was of yellow roses. The mother of the bridegroom wore navy nylon with navy and pink accessories and her corsage was of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlors. A color scheme of blue and white was carried out and the bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped and encircled with white roses.

Servers at the bride's table were Mrs. Charles Holmes, Marengo; Mrs. Harold Peters, Shellsburg, Ia.; Mrs. Mel Peters, Marengo; Mrs. Hank Willy, Marengo; Mrs. Hoyt was in charge of the guest book.

The couple returned on June 14 from a wedding trip to Wisconsin Dells, Wis., to reside at their country home near Marengo, where Mr. Peters is engaged in farming.

The bride attended Drake University and was a member of Chi Omega sorority.

Skunk Collared
IPSWICH, Mass. (AP)—There's a skunk wandering around the Ipswich woods wearing a glass collar. The animal stuck its head into a bottle and couldn't get it out. A woman—standing well off from her target—broke the bottle with a well-aimed rock.

When no one offered to come close enough to remove the bottle-neck, the skunk wandered off.

Waneta Schroder, Bruce E. Dudley Recently Wed

Baskets of orchid gladioli, large sprays of woodwardia, and candelabra, holding white tapers, formed the altar setting for the marriage of Miss Waneta Schroder, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schroder, Florence, and Mr. James B. Dudley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce E. Dudley, 818 East 72nd, Kansas City, which took place on Sunday, May 23, at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, in the Methodist Church in Stover. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. H. DeVries.

Mrs. Jewel Stevison, Stover, played organ selections and accompanied Mrs. Don Bentch, Versailles, who sang "Because," "Bless This House" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, whose father gave her in marriage, wore a gown of lace and nylon net over white satin, fashioned with slim bodice and the full floor length skirt, worn over crinolines. The lace overskirt to the hem of the dress formed deep scallops on either side of the front net panel. The sleeves of lace were long and tapered at the wrists and an open effect was formed by a neckline design of lace scallops. The tiny collar fastened at the throat.

From a narrow tiara of satin cascaded her lace edged fingertip illusion veil and she carried a white orchid with ruby throat on a white Bible.

Miss Laverna Schroder, Florence, sister of the bride, wore a floor length gown of orchid nylon net over taffeta and Miss Mary Jane Boyd, Windsor, bridesmaid, was in a nylon net over taffeta in light green shade.

Mr. William H. Swope, Kansas City, served as best man for Mr. Dudley.

Ushers were Mr. Kenneth Schroder and Mr. Shelby Siegel, both of Florence.

Doris Case, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Case, Stover, and a niece of the bride, was in yellow net over taffeta and served as flower girl.

The bride's mother was in a navy sheer dress with navy and white accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a pink dress with white accessories.

A reception was held after the ceremony in the church dining room with guests numbering 225. Miss Mary Jane Fling, Kansas City, cousin of the bridegroom, was in charge of the guest book.

The couple has returned from a wedding trip to Chicago and is now at home at 4420 Roanoke Rd., Kansas City. For traveling the bride wore a two piece navy dress with light blue accessories and her flower was a white orchid.

The bride attended Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, and for three years was teacher-principal of Fortuna Elementary School.

Mr. Dudley is a graduate of the University of Kansas and served three years in the United States Navy. He is now employed by J. F. Pritchard and Company in Kansas City.

Queen Barely Misses Accident On Horse

ASCOT, England (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II gave an exhibition of her expert horsemanship at the Royal Ascot race course today and probably saved her head.

She ducked just in time on a galloping horse to get under a telephone cable that had blown down at head level across the course.

A shout from the Duke of Edinburgh, who was riding out front, sounded the warning. The Queen laughed off the incident and called out to Lord Roseberry as she rode past.

"We were nearly all decapitated," she quipped.

The duke, more concerned than his young wife, asked her afterward: "Did you hear me shout when I saw that wire?"

She smiled and replied: "I saw you duck and I did the same." The Queen and some of her noble peers and their ladies, staying at nearby Windsor Castle, went for a morning gallop on the famous course before the opening of the day's racing.

College of Physicians Won't Protest Smoking

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The American College of Chest Physicians refused yesterday to single out cigarette smoking as a suspected cause of lung cancer.

After two hours of lively debate the organization adopted a resolution saying further work must be done before "any single agent or agents can be definitely implicated."

A move to go on record as naming cigarette smoking as a possible suspect was made by Dr. Richard Overholt of Brookline, Mass., a surgeon at Tufts College Medical School.

Speaking for the majority and the noncommittal resolution, Dr. Alvin E. Greer, of Houston, president of the college, said too many other things are in the picture to warrant a specific pronouncement about cigarettes. Among them he named smog, chimney smoke, auto fumes and air polluted by population concentrations.

Dr. Everts Graham, St. Louis Surgeon, renewed his contention that the case against cigarette smoking is a strong one although absolute proof is lacking.

"tab," simply because they are fortunate (or unfortunate) enough to be property owners. The property owners formerly had to petition for paved streets, but now, it seems, we have the streets first and hand the bill to the tax payers, whether he wants it or not.

"Even though Fifth Street, on which I live, is somewhat narrow and rough, traffic consistently moves by at 30 to 35 miles per hour. Given a nice smooth surface, it will travel 40 to 45 miles per hour, like it does on Broadway, which isn't too smooth, West Third, Barrett and others. We have at least 5000 cars in our immediate area and two Police Patrol Cars to enforce the traffic laws of the City. What if it were like when we furnish these drivers a few more miles of speedway surface? I suggest driving all the way across town on Highway 50, at exactly 25 miles per hour for interesting results. I've done it, and I don't care to quote the remarks I've received from the 9 out of 10 drivers who passed me, and whose progress I seemed to be improving.

"While I'm in a gripeing mood, I may as well mention another peeve of mine, the signal light at Broadway and Ohio. It seems we should be able to afford enough paint to keep the 'left turn only' lanes plainly marked on all 4 approaches to the intersection. Someone might notice them and even follow the instructions."

Bulletins telling all about the picnic have been sent to all members of the Chamber of Commerce and this afternoon a group, composed of Mrs. Frank Wagner, Mrs. Anna Bagby, Mrs. J. F. Schumacher, Mrs. Marjorie Garanson, Miss Peggy Garanson and Miss Glenda Haney, was at the base giving out the invitations to the men as they left.

Convicted Puerto Rican Keeps Fighting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lolita Lebron, convicted with three men for wounding five congressmen but facing a lighter sentence, swore today she will continue to fight for Puerto Rican independence.

"What I thought was the end may be the beginning," she replied from her cell to written questions from newsmen.

"If all my blood had spilled, it would have splashed away decadence and inertia. I hope no more of my people will have to die. My country is going to be free."

The slight, 34-year-old brunette, much of the fire apparently gone out of her when the two-week trial ended yesterday, was acquitted of five charges of intent to kill. She had been found guilty Wednesday of five counts of assault with a dangerous weapon.

Her three fellow members of the radical Nationalist party of Puerto Rico—Rafael Cancel Miranda, 25, Andres Figueroa Cordero, 29, and Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28—were convicted Wednesday on all 10 counts.

Thus, they face possible maximum penalties of 75 years in prison apiece, including concurrent sentences for intent to kill and assault with a dangerous weapon. Mrs. Lebron, convicted only on the latter charge, could get no more than 30 years in prison.

Wounded in the House shootings were Representatives Alvin H. Bentley (R-Mich), Clifford Davis (D-Tenn), George Fallon (D-Mich), Ben F. Jensen (R-Iowa) and Kenneth Roberts (D-Ala.).

While waiting for the verdict, Mrs. Lebron said she hoped the jury would find her "guilty as they found the boys."

"I do not feel guilty, nor do they," she wrote in reply to questions, "but I do resent being judged separately from them. I cannot understand why I am not guilty as they are."

But the jury apparently was impressed with her testimony that she fired her bullets into the ceiling of the House chamber, not toward the floor on which some 200 legislators were then gathered on routine business.

Cancel, Figueroa and Flores testified, as did Mrs. Lebron, that none of them intended to kill anybody. They said they wanted only to dramatize their demands for Puerto Rican independence.

Susan Hayward's Divorce Trial May End Today

BURBANK, Calif. (AP) — The divorce trial of handsome Jess Barker, seeking half of Susan Hayward's wealth, may end today.

Superior Judge Herbert V. Walker presiding will take the case under advisement for time to study the testimony.

Barker, in contesting his movie queen wife's action, contends he is entitled to half their community property. Attorneys stipulated that Miss Hayward's assets total $293,319 plus a million-dollar film contract paying her $5,000 a week.

An accountant, Miss Elva McGuire, testified yesterday that in 1951 Barker earned $318.75 while Miss Hayward grossed $163,692.05, and in 1952 Barker earned $346.50 and Miss Hayward, $210,376.50. Barker testified he has earned $1,500 in the last 18 months and his bank account totals $5,000.

Miss Hayward already has offered him $100,000, payable in the form of alimony over a 10-year period. He spurned that offer although his counsel said the figure would be acceptable in a lump sum as community property.

Mathematical testimony followed testimony by Barker that Miss Hayward once put out a lighted cigarette by rubbing it in his eye. He declined to elaborate other than to say the incident climaxed an argument.

Barker also denied that he held his wife's head under water as charged earlier by the actress. "I merely dropped her in the pool," he stated.

A dramatic moment in the trial came when Hahn asked the actor if he were still in love with his wife. He looked straight at his wife, who cast her eyes downward, and replied: "Yes."

American Wins First Chess Game from Soviet

NEW YORK (AP)—Donald Byrne, a 24-year-old University of Michigan instructor, chalked up America's first victory in the Soviet-U.S. chess tournament by beating the champion of Russia.

He defeated Yuri Auerbach in 59 moves. Byrne's brother Robert, 26, fought a losing battle with Alexander Kotov at a neighboring table in a banquet room at the Hotel Roosevelt.

The Russians are far ahead in points, 6-2. In the eight first-round games, they won five, drew two and lost one.

The next round starts tomorrow night.

Clip and Save for Future Use—

Poison the Grasshoppers

This can be done either with spray or poison bait using aldrin, heptachlor, chlordane or toxaphene. (Use both methods for best results).

Poison Bait Mixtures

For 10 Acres

To make 200 pounds of bait use 100 pounds of mill-run bran*. Mix the insecticide (emulsifiable concentrate) in 6 gallons of water, and thoroughly mix this water with the bran. Add enough more water—usually another 4 to 6 gallons to make a moist, crumbly mash. (Spread at the rate of 20 pounds per acre.)

Use one of the following amounts of insecticide with the above bran:

1. ½ pint aldrin 25% (emulsifiable concentrate) 2 teaspoons
2. 1 pint heptachlor 25% (emulsifiable concentrate) 4 teaspoons
3. 1 pint chlordane 40% (emulsifiable concentrate) 4 teaspoons
4. 1½ pint toxaphene 65% (emulsifiable concentrate) 5 tablespoons

Spread the bait thinly, but evenly, early in the morning (about daybreak).

*Three-fourths of the bran can be replaced with old sawdust if it is available.

Posioning Grasshoppers With Spray

Amount Per Gallon

1. 1 pint aldrin 25% (emulsifiable concentrate) 2 tablespoons
2. 1 pint heptachlor 25% (emulsifiable concentrate) 2 tablespoons
3. 1 quart chlordane 40% (emulsifiable concentrate) 4 tablespoons
4. ½ gallon toxaphene 65% (emulsifiable concentrate) 8 tablespoons

(Use these mixtures at about 1 gallon per 1000 square feet).

Probably the aldrin is a little more economical.

A word of caution regarding pastures and hay fields. Pastures should not be used within 3 weeks of spraying and hay fields should not be sprayed within 3 weeks of harvest.

To make 20 pounds of bait use 10 pounds of mill-run bran*. Mix the insecticide (emulsifiable concentrate) in 2 quarts of water, and thoroughly mix this with the bran. Add enough more water, usually another 2 quarts or slightly more, to make a moist, crumbly mash. (Spread at rate of 1 pound per 1000 square feet.)

Use one of the following amounts of insecticide with the above bran:

1. ½ pint aldrin 25% (emulsifiable concentrate) 2 teaspoons
2. 1 pint heptachlor 25% (emulsifiable concentrate) 4 teaspoons
3. 1 pint chlordane 40% (emulsifiable concentrate) 4 teaspoons
4. 1½ pint toxaphene 65% (emulsifiable concentrate) 5 tablespoons

Spread the bait thinly, but evenly, early in the morning (about daybreak).

*Three-fourths of the bran can be replaced with old sawdust if it is available.

Crowd Seeks Girl While She Is Asleep

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Nearly 200 perspiring searchers last night combed bush and swamp for Holly Chase.

The 2-year-old girl had disappeared during a game of hide-and-seek. Seventy-five policemen, 30 firemen and 25 Boy Scouts joined neighbors in the search.

The firemen tackled a nearby swamp, laying down a board walk as they progressed. The cops manned searchlights.

Finally, 14-year-old Gail Fitzgerald recalled that Holly was accustomed to playing in a neighbor's house, and went there to investigate. She found her sleeping in an upstairs closet where the youngster had hidden 3½ hours earlier.

Mrs. Ed G. Robinson Jr. Asks Maintenance

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An attorney for Mrs. Edward G. Robinson Jr. says she will file a separate maintenance suit today against the son of the actor.

He said the former Frances Chisholm, 23, will ask "a reasonable amount of support" for herself and their 10-month-old daughter. Her husband is 21.

The couple met as students at a New York drama school. Their 1952 Tijuana marriage led to the actor's stopping his son's $70-a-week allowance. The elder Robinson gave his son a new car two months later.

Atty. S. S. Hahn said the actor and his wife have done all they could to save their son's marriage and hope there may be a reconciliation.

Merry-Go-Round
Flanders' Ship Gets Sunk In
Ike's Legislative Quagmire

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—It has now been almost two years since Governor Dewey had a long session with candidate Eisenhower about the importance of an early showdown with Senator McCarthy and urged him to stage that showdown in Milwaukee by criticizing McCarthy right to his face in his own balliwick.

Instead, Ike listened to other advisers, eliminated the McCarthy criticism, and finally, after conferring with McCarthy himself in Peoria, even eliminated praise of Ike's old friend, Gen. George Marshall, who McCarthy castigated.

Today, 20 months later, some of the Dewey Republicans in Congress are saying that Ike has decided on another "Peoria."

What's happened is that the White House has decided not to let the Flanders resolution on McCarthy's finances come up for a vote in the Senate. If it does come up for a vote, a majority of the Democrats and enough Republicans would vote with Flanders and against McCarthy, thus giving Eisenhower a victory over the man who has caused him more trouble than any other member of Congress, whether Republican or Democrat.

But the Flanders resolution cannot come up for a vote without the OK of Senator Knowland, Republican leader, and both Knowland and the White House have turned thumbs down.

Joe's Elbow-Jiggling

It was only a few days ago that Eisenhower found it necessary to issue an emphatic Justice Department statement putting the administration's foot down on McCarthy for advocating his own private espionage system inside the administration.

Reason for Ike's thumbs-down is the desire to pass his legislative program. In private conversations, Eisenhower has talked about his program as if it were the one and only thing upon which hangs his political future.

The men who are talking to him most about this include Knowland, Congressman Charlie Halleck of Indiana, and Gerald Morgan, Ike's Capitol Hill buttonholder. They are similar to the little group of advisers who in October, 1952, urged Ike to junk Dewey's advice and appease McCarthy.

Today some of the Deweyites in Congress argue that what Ike needs is not a legislative program and the passage of new laws, but the ability to administer the laws that are passed. He can't do that, they argue, if he has the junior senator from Wisconsin constantly on his neck or jiggling his elbow.

Bunche's Loyalty

When Ralph Bunche, distinguished Negro diplomat, was near the end of his seven-month-long security check, he was invited to dine at the White House with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia.

Simultaneously, Bunche's lawyer, ex-Ambassador Ernest Gross, got a phone call from Herb Block, famed political cartoonist.

"I am planning a cartoon," he said, "of Dr. Bunche getting up from the White House dinner table, turning to Eisenhower, and saying: 'Please excuse me, Mr. President. I have to return to have my loyalty investigated.'"

Ambassador Gross finally persuaded Herb Block not to draw the cartoon for fear it would backfire against Bunche.

No Free Junkies

President Eisenhower is so determined to push his legislative program through Congress that he has secretly called in Secretary of Defense Wilson and told him to cut off the most popular way congressmen have of sneaking out of town—airplane junkies.

Ordinarily, when the heat waves start shimmering on the Potomac, senators and congressmen break out the travel folders and look for pleasant places to "investigate."

Knowing this, Ike conspired with his Secretary of Defense "to keep Congress in town" until adjournment day. Free airplane transportation, the President suggested to Wilson, should be out.

Note—One committee that wouldn't take no for an answer, however, is the select committee on Communist aggression, headed by Senator McCarthy's pal, Rep. Charlie Kersten of Wisconsin. Kersten not only demanded free transportation to investigate "Communist aggression" in Europe, particularly along the Mediterranean shores, but he also insisted on taking along his wife and daughter. How they would aid the anti-Communist cause he didn't explain.

McCarthyism Fades

The recent California primary has caused both Republican and Democratic strategists to wonder whether the McCarthy technique may not have lost its political punch by the time November rolls around.

In three different California races, McCarthyism, or McCarthy techniques, or McCarthy candidates fizzled, as follows:

1. The renomination of Congressman Robert Condon, Democrat, of Walnut Creek, despite the fact that the Atomic Energy Commission had refused him permission to attend A-bomb tests, and despite the fact that Democratic Chairman Mitchell had tried to read Condon out of the nomination. Condon won easily.

2. The victory of Mrs. Margaret Younger, Republican, over State Senator Jack Tenney, sometimes called the "McCarthy of California." Mrs. Younger, a follower of the Earl Warren moderate wing of the Republican party, won easily, despite the fact that the opposition had put another candidate also named "Mrs. Younger" in the race against her.

3. Thousands of circulars put out by Senator Kuchel forces, attempting to smear Congressman Sam Yorty as a Red, also fizzled. Yorty won the Democratic nomination easily.

WASHINGTON—Among other earth-shaking controversies now being debated in Washington, there's a social crisis over whether the lady who presides at the coffee-pouring table should be of higher rank than the lady who pours the tea at a reception, or vice versa.

Three of the capital's best informed authorities on protocol are in disagreement on this coffee-versus-tea issue.

The State Department's protocol office and former White House Social Secretary Edith Benham Helm say this is all very silly and

Real Americanism Is The Answer to Communist Peril

By Bruce Blossat

The fright felt by many Americans in the face of the Communist menace is genuine. And there can be no doubt that it is soundly based. We have seen enough of the Reds' pattern of world conquest and their internal depredations to realize we are not involved in a child's game.

Still, many signs exist that with a lot of us these fears play too great a daily role. One would think America had no strength, no resources of its own, to throw into the steady combat against the Communist peril.

A Democrat walks out of a House committee hearing in protest against what he deems unfair besmirching of men's reputations. A visitor, obviously equating the Democrat's action with treason, addresses him as "Malenkov" as he leaves.

The same group, the Reece committee, appears to be engaged in trying to show that new ideas are to be dreaded like germ warfare. Its evident thesis is that men who dare to advance new ideas, or merely to accept them, are guilty of some sort of massive plot against "the public interest."

Over and over we are told of purported plots and conspiracies, in terms which suggest we are at the mercy of the Communist devils and that our democratic ideals cannot stand to be held up beside the moth-eaten garb of tyranny.

What kind of people are we, anyway? Are we so timid that we must listen to jittery counsel which tells us there is a Communist under every bed and maybe even under every Army cot?

We hear much these days about men who are "soft on communism." Beyond doubt, some men have been just that. But the fears of that menace would not be so greatly magnified if there were not a lot of people in this country who are soft on Americanism.

This is a country renowned for nearly 180 years for the power and example of its democratic ideals, its devotion to liberty in all its forms.

This is a country with the material might and the human skills to outproduce—and it did toward the close of World War II—all its allies and enemies combined.

This is a country which gives a higher standard of living to more people over a wider area than any other nation on earth.

This is a country which in its every characteristic act and mood is the living refutation of the Communist myth. Americans prove every day they get up and work and think that the free do best in this world.

This is a nation, too, which must be acknowledged—when all its assets, the material, the human and the spiritual, are added together—as the greatest power on the face of the globe.

Let us be alert and prepared for our very real perils. But let us meet them as the men of strength and vision we really are, not as frightened children who imagine they have no safety from the world's cruelties.

Cause of Fibrositis Varies;
Treatment Also Differs

By Edwin P. Jordan, M. D.

Correspondents frequently ask me for a discussion of fibrositis, a rather vague and often quite painful disorder.

At the present time, perhaps the best way to describe fibrositis is to call it a kind of rheumatism which attacks particularly the soft tissues, such as the muscles, ligaments and others lying under the skin, rather than the joints themselves, as in the case of arthritis.

Fibrositis can hardly be considered a single disease, however, since sometimes it involves only certain areas, and at other times it is pretty widespread over the body. Generally speaking, it causes pain and aching, soreness when the affected part is moved, and often a certain degree of stiffness.

Since "itis" means inflammation, in this case the soft tissues are considered inflamed. Fibrositis may start suddenly with pain in some part of the body and for no apparent reason. Or it may begin gradually with fatigue starting before the soreness, pain and stiffness.

There are many possible causes for fibrositis. The most common is associated with some infectious or toxic condition. This is one kind of rheumatism in which removal of an infected tooth or infected tonsils is sometimes of benefit.

Injury is also a common cause, but sometimes the injury may have been so slight as to escape notice. Cold, overexertion and overexposure are commonly blamed.

If the fibrositis is associated with an acute infection, then rest and the appropriate treatment for that infection is needed. If it comes with upsets of the stomach and intestines, perhaps a liquid or soft diet is in order.

Other treatments depend on what appears to be the cause or causes and what can be done for it or them.

The shoulder and lower portion of the back, the neck, the tissues around the large joints, and the chest wall are common locations. Pain is almost always present, but swelling is far less constant. Nodules or little bumps under the skin are frequently felt in or near the tender regions.

Most of us have had attacks of fibrositis at one time or another. Recovery is usual but since fibrositis is likely to be painful, quick relief is badly wanted. Aspirin, of course, helps some.

Heat treatments or other forms of physical therapy are also useful in bringing at least temporary—and sometimes permanent—relief. Sometimes the unpleasant symptoms last on and on to the distress of all concerned.

neither pouring operation outranks the other.

Mrs. Carolyn Hagner Shaw, editor of Washington's Green Book and Social Register, stoutly maintains, however, that even if you call your reception a tea, the ranking lady assisting you should be asked to preside at the coffee pot.

The lady with lower rank would get the assignment at the tea kettle, with its infinitely greater responsibility of asking whether you wanted it with lemon, instead of just cream and sugar. That is, a senator's wife should pour coffee. A representative's wife should pour tea.

You're In Good Hands—Why Get Hysterical?

The World Today—
McCarthy Coming Back Fresh

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — After a short rest Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) can be expected back with a fresh box of matches to start another roaring fire under the Eisenhower administration.

The 36-day Army-McCarthy hearings which ended last night may turn out to have been just a warm-up for future McCarthy struggles with the administration.

McCarthy wants his Senate Investigations subcommittee, he said to have hearings on whether Communists have slipped into defense plants. Since that seems normally within the scope of his committee, the administration probably won't object.

Then, he said, he wants to consider looking for Communists in super secret atom and hydrogen bomb plants and the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), which does this country's counterspying on the Communists overseas.

Right there he runs head on a a in into the administration which stiff-armed him when he tried to look into CIA before. He indicated he might talk to the White House first, but didn't say what he'd do if he was turned down.

Over the past four years, McCarthy has hopped from sensational charge to sensational charge and from headline to headline, attacking both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations when it suited him. Only for a year and a half has he headed the subcommittee. Before that he was a lone operator.

Conflict has been his meat and potatoes. He has grown strong on it. The sensations and the headlines have been the breath of his political life. Without them he would be again just one of the 96 senators.

No one, he has said, can stop his search for Communists in the RICKY'S face was serious. "I'm starting the club again... but there's something else. If I want that custom shop, I've got to help prove that guys aren't outlaws just because they want their cars different. Rods have to be made respectable, if there's a future in building them."

"Are you and Merle still planning to go in business together?"

"I don't know about Merle. Think we could get a loan from the bank to start the business?"

"I make loans to farmers who have the ability to bring in a crop. Whether or not the bank can lend you money will depend on how good a risk you appear to be."

"I've never tried anything and Merle's never succeeded," Ricky said wryly.

"Merle's a good practical mechanic," Mr. Madison said. "But your business needs someone who can create designs, and manage the financial end of it. Someone to manage the business."

"I know," Ricky admitted. "Sometimes when I'm up here trying to figure out new designs I get stuck. It's not just a question of what lines I'd like to draw, but what can be done with different materials and what can't. I think there's a big future in new kinds of plastic bodies, but I don't know enough about the materials. If I could experiment..."

"Iowa State's close... and good," Mr. Madison said. "We could work something out, Ricky. All we have to do is try."

"I'll try, Dad. And I'll prove it by starting up the Dellville Timing Association again. We might get the horse laugh from a lot of guys, but what we want is important. Too important to let anybody kid us out of it."

THE new Dellville Timing Association was three weeks old, and as far as Ricky was concerned it had produced only one tangible result—Sharon was allowed to drive with him again. They decided to celebrate by going to a drive-in movie in Des Moines.

The little coupe was washed and polished to a spotless finish when Ricky parked it in front of Sharon's house. In the right-hand corner of his windshield he carried the sticker of the DTA, a blue wheel with the letters DTA in the center in gold.

So far the sticker was producing everything but the desired effect. Designed to inform police and other authorities that the driver was careful, helpful and competent, it had been ignored by all authorities other than Arnie. He said it looked fine. Most adults scowled at it as the symbol of bad driving, and the other teen-age drivers went out of their way trying to tease him into drag races and other violations of the DTA code. It hadn't been an easy three weeks.

Mr. Bruce opened the door, pipe in mouth. "She'll be down in a minute, Ricky," he said, leading Ricky to the living room. "Acts as though she'd never seen you before, and is afraid to meet you."

"I guess women think it's fashionable to be late," Ricky said, glancing at his wrist watch.

Mr. Bruce snorted. "That's what they say, my boy. The truth is, they're born without any sense of time at all."

"Dad says Mom thinks time stands still when she's on the telephone."

"Don't mention that instrument to me," Mr. Bruce said, shuddering. "If you ever have any teenage daughters of your own, you'll know what I mean."

Ricky blushed. "I guess some of that's my fault."

"Well, I'd hope she isn't talking to herself. By the way, how's the DTA coming?"

"Pretty slow," Ricky said.

RICKY stood up as Sharon came into the room. He'd expected her to be in a skirt and blouse or slacks. His eyes widened when he saw her in a print dress with a wide belt and full skirt. And she was wearing white sandals with a fairly high heel. She had combed her hair back up, to be cool, and Ricky, who had been expecting an informal girl, was suddenly struck dumb at the sight of the beautiful girl who was to be his date.

"Approve!" Sharon asked Ricky, her smile teasing a little.

"I guess I do," he answered awkwardly. "You look real nice."

"Well, kids," Mr. Bruce said, "I won't insult you by telling you to be careful. Have a good time."

"Thanks," Ricky said. "We will. And no drags."

"You can drive in high," Mr. Bruce said dryly.

SLANG was something the woman didn't like very well and was always rather proud of the fact that she had never gotten into the habit of using it.

One day a slang word came up and someone had said it was in the dictionary. When she got home she got out her dictionary and to her amazement there in the back found a little more than 22 pages devoted only to slang. She looked them over and since that time she has had a rather red face over it for many, many of the words she used frequently and had no idea they were considered slang. She doesn't brag about her slang-free speech any more. Now she just goes along, right along, with all the rest of the Americans and admits she uses slang.—H.L.

GROWING SPIRITUALLY

By
E. STANLEY JONES

1 Pet. 2:21-23
STEPS TO CHRISTIAN REACTIONS

We come now to the steps we are to take to develop Christian reactions to what happens to us. First, Settle in your thinking the matter. To whom do you belong? If you belong to yourself, you'll be touchy when that self is touched. You will react in resentments when someone crosses the self. You will live on the defensive. And he who lives on the defensive lives by fear. If you belong to the herd, you will be very sensitive to what the herd does or does not do. You will always be "in hot water" with the herd—nervous, going up and down with the approval or disapproval of the herd.

But if you belong to Christ, you will react with His reactions. Second, Study how Jesus reacted to what happened to Him. Take the central tragedy that befell Him—the Cross. When He made the announcement to His disciples that He was going to the cross, there were four reactions: (1) Peter reacted in a fussy, self-assertive assumption of authority. "Peter took him and began to reproach him for it; 'God forbid,' Lord," he said. "This must not be!" (Matt. 16:22, Moffatt.) The authority which Jesus had just given Peter went to his head, and he began to be managerial and officious.

(2) The mother of James and John reacted in an ambitious attempt to get something out of the tragedy for her sons. She tried to get places at Jesus' right and left hand for them. We often react in ambition, trying to gather out of happenings, however tragic, something for ourselves.

(3) The ten reacted in anger: "When the ten heard of this, they were angry at the two brothers" (v. 24, Moffatt). We often react in anger at other people's reactions.

(4) There was the reaction of Jesus to this tragedy—He decided to use the catastrophe. The Son of man had come, He said, "to give his life as a ransom for many" (v. 28). He made the tragedy redemptive. He rescued victory out of defeat.

O Christ, Thou didst turn Thyself from a victim to a victor by Thy reaction. Help me to do the same. Amen.
AFFIRMATION FOR THE DAY: All my disasters shall be doors, for I shall meet them as Jesus did.

Sunday School Lesson Notes

LOVE IS TEST OF 'TRUE' RELIGION

By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

The believer in every creed, the follower of every sect or tenet, to say nothing of those who belong to great historic churches, or large denominations might say, each in his way, "My religion is the true one."

It is the way in which most tolerance for others. And with little recognition of the fact that there might be some truth in the religion of those who differed from them, or even that there might be a measure of truth in all.

I think it was George Bernard Shaw who wrote that "there is only one religion, though there are a hundred versions of it."

Shaw may have written that as a challenging quip, like so many of his clever thrusts, and I am not quite sure what he meant by it.

However, I think it has this truth: At the heart of all religion, if it have any truth at all, are faith and sincerity.

But faith and sincerity are not enough. The persecutor and the intolerant have faith. They evidently believe in what they profess, and they are sincerely intense in their advocacy of it, and in their opposition to all who do not agree with them.

But truth has to do with knowledge, and knowledge depends upon understanding, and understanding depends upon love. It was an eminent scientist who said: "We understand only what we love." The scientist who approaches the world and life with strong preconceived notions to that extent cuts himself off from requiring any understanding of the facts they are.

This is as true in the area of religion as it is in the world of science. So, it is in accordance with reality that the New Testament makes love the center and soul of true religion, and by that very fact setting up a profound contrast with the lovelessness of much religious profession. The prophets Amos and Hosea cried out in their time against the unreality of formal worship, sacrifices, and rites to the neglect of justice and truth, and right relations man with man.

The Prophet Micah gave his famous definition of true religion: "He (the Lord) hath shewed thee, O man, what is good, and what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly, to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God."

The Apostle James, also, gave a very practical definition (James 1:27): "Pure religion and undefiled before God and the Father is this. To visit the fatherless and widows in their affliction, and to keep himself unstained from the world."

But John brought it out into all its fullness and inclusiveness in this manner: "He that loveth not his brother whom he hath seen, how can he love God whom he hath not seen?" (1 John 4:20). There is the test of true religion.

Optimists, Adco Score Victories

Optimists, with a homer by Moritz, defeated the Lions 6 to 3 and Adco, with a big fifth inning, downed Democrat-Capital 11-10 in games Thursday night of the Little League majors played at the stadium.

After scoring one run in the first, and being tied by the Lions' tally in the first of the second, Optimists jumped into the lead in the last of the second when McMackin doubled and Wertz got his four-bagger. The inning produced four runs for a 5-1 lead. For a while in the top of the third it appeared the Lions might catch up, but their rally was nipped at only two runs and the Optimists had a victory, adding a run in the fourth to swell their lead.

It was a different story in the second game when both teams kept scoring, each counting in four of the six frames. Adco led off with two in the first and the Newsboys tied it in the same inning. Then the Dem-Cap took a lead with three in the second and Adco pulled up to trail 4-5 with two in the third. There was no scoring until the first of the fifth when Adco went out front 9-5 with five scores.

The Newsboys almost tied it, to trail 8-9, with three in the last of the fifth and both teams scored two runs in the last canto to wind up with a one-run difference, Adco out front.

Each team had nine hits and doubles were hit by Bennett and Whittaker of Adco, DeJarnett's Jones and Winters of Democrat-Capital.

BONUS BABIES AND THE BAT BOYS—Bonus babies make it difficult to separate Detroit players from the bat boys. There's a scant age difference between the bonus babies and Francis McGarry, 16, second from left, a high school student, and Johnny Robb, 19, second from right, also a student, who look after the bats. A year ago, infielder Reno Bertoia, 19, left, was a college freshman and outfielder Al Kaline, 19, center, and pitcher Bob Miller, 18, were in high school. (NEA)

Rocky Feels Ez Deserves Return Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—"He gave me a helluva fight. He deserves a return fight if he wants it."

Thus spoke heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano after his thrilling come-from-behind 15-round decision over game, undefeated Ezzard Charles in a savage scrap in Yankee Stadium last night.

"I want him again," snarled the battered, 32-year-old Charles. "I thought I won. I think I came closer to knocking him out than he did me. The next time it will be different."

The lean Cincinnati Cobra, who failed for the second time in an attempt to become the first ex-champion to regain the heavyweight crown, may get his chance in September.

"Charles is entitled to the return," said Al Weill, manager of the all-conquering Brockton and great fight. "It was a great show and a great fight. If Rocky's cut comes out okay, I'd say a September fight with Charles in New York is a great possibility."

"I not Charles," continued Weill, "maybe that Englishman—Don Cockell—or maybe the winner of the Hurricane Jackson-Nino Valdes fight (they meet in Madison Square Garden July 14) if they put on an exciting fight. Say, wasn't that a great scrap?"

It was that, and more. Practically every one of the 47,885 paying customers, who contributed to a gross gate of $543,092, left the ball park raving about lamb-brawl, to the outstanding heavyweight tussles in years.

"It was as tough as my first fight with (Jersey Joe) Walcott, maybe tougher," said the 28-year-old unbeaten Marciano, who went 15 rounds for the first time in his career. It was only the sixth time Rocky had to win by votes of the officials and one of the very few in which he failed to floor his opponent. He swept his other 40 by knockouts.

For four rounds it was all Charles. The 185½-pound, 18-5 underdog boxed beautifully. Then the 187½-pound Rocky, bleeding profusely from a wide, inch-and-a-quarter gash over his left eye, came on.

The muscular, bulldozing champion almost put Ezzy away in the sixth, kept driving until he was ahead slightly by the 10th, and then almost stowed Charles away several times in the later rounds. In the last, he battered the swollen-faced, hands-down challenger all over the ring.

The officials' votes brought no protest except from the Charles camp. Referee Ruby Goldstein had it 8-5-2; Judge Harold Barnes, 8-6-1; and Judge Arthur Aidaia, 9-5-1. The Associated Press score card had Rocky far in front 10-4-1, giving the champion every round from the fifth on with the exception of the seventh. That round was called even.

Rocky's purse, not counting the movies which may prove to be a bonanza, came to about $275,961. Charles collected approximately $137,980. That included their share of the gate, the approximately $188,000 from the telecast to 61

Four Games Saturday In Little League Minors

Four games are scheduled for the Little League Minors Saturday. The first game will be at 9 a.m., Adco against the Elks. The second game will be between the Lions and the Democrat-Capital at 10:30.

In the afternoon games, at 1 p.m., the Optimists will go against the Jaycees and at 2:30 p.m. Kiwanis plays Rotary.

Concession stands will be open at the stadium during all games played Saturday.

According to George Thompson, supervisor of the minor league, games thus far this season have been marked with good sportsmanship.

Theaters in 45 cities, and the $35,000 from the network radio broadcast. The gash over Rocky's left eye, opened in the fourth round—requiring 10 stitches by Dr. Vincent Nardiello. The physician cut away some old scar tissue in his post-fight operation at St. Clare's hospital. Charles required some treatment too for his swollen features.

The broad-shouldered, lean-toothed challenger said he was "do out okay," until he was hit in the Adam's apple.

"He's strong and throws a lot of punches but he didn't give me as tough a fight as Walcott did," Ezzy said. "In fact, all (four) of my fights with Walcott were tougher. He didn't hurt me near as much as Walcott did."

Rocky said he was "surprised by Charles' ability to take a punch and by his power. I just couldn't get going early. I guess I was dull. But at the finish I was plenty fresh, not the least bit tired."

Through the first four rounds Charles bewildered the slugging champ with left jabs, hooks and rights and successfully tied up the flat-footed, stalking Marciano. Rocky unlimbered his left hook to take the fifth. In the sixth the often wild-swinging Marciano rocked Charles with a terrific right to the jaw and solid hook to the stomach.

"I dazed him but the bell saved him," said the Rock.

The 10th was another big round for the champ and he almost felled Ezzy with his looping "Suzy Q" right. In the 11th he came close to dropping his taller rival with a right and a blazing hook to the body.

Charles fired back often enough but his punches had lost their steam. In the final round as Rocky went out to clinch the verdict, Charles barely staved off a knockout.

Campy Back In First Place In Balloting

CHICAGO (AP)—Roy Campanella of the Brooklyn Dodgers was back in first place today in the National League's balloting for starting catcher in the All Star baseball game in Cleveland July 13.

In the All Star baseball poll, which opened a week ago, Campanella regained the lead from Forrest (Smoke) Burgess of the Philadelphia Phillies.

In the poll's only other major change, Red Schoendienst, St. Louis Cardinals second baseman, took over the lead from Grady Hamner of Philadelphia.

Records May Fall In AAU Track Meet

ST. LOUIS (AP)—About half a dozen meet records stand in danger tonight as more than 400 of the nation's best—including seven Olympic champions—move into action in the 66th annual national AAU track and field championships.

The 21-event meet, which runs tonight and tomorrow night at the St. Louis Public School Stadium, climaxes the outdoor track season.

Only three defending champions, including Kansas' Wes Santee, will be missing from the field.

With Santee out because of Marine summer camp training, Luxembourg's Josy Barthel who won the 1,500 meter event at the Olympics, figures to be the favorite in the 25-man mile field. Santee holds the AAU mile standard of 4:07.6 set at Dayton, Ohio, last year.

The New York Athletic Club is the defending champion of the meet.

Southern California's Ernie Shelton, who has cleared the bar at 6 foot 10½ inches within the past week, expects to try for the elusive seven-foot high jump mark.

Mal Whitfield's 1:51.5 half-mile AAU record may be topped tonight along with Parry O'Brien's 37 foot 11½ inch shot put mark. Other records that may fall include Walt Seymour's 248 foot 10 inch javelin throw; J. W. Mashburn's 440-yard mark of 47.1; and Fortune Gordien's 183 foot 9½ inch discus heave.

O'Brien, 1952 Olympic champ of the Los Angeles Athletic Club, holds the world shot put mark with a toss of 60 feet 10 inches.

Davis and Charlie Capozzoli, three-mile winner, are the other two defending champions who will be missing from the meet with Santee.

Other gold medal Olympic champions entered include Horace Ashenfelter, defending two-mile steeplechase champion; former Illinois U. star Bob Richards in the pole vault; Lindy Remigino in the 100-meter dash; Andy Stanfield in the 200-meter event; and Whitfield, the 800 meter titlist.

Three Former Champs Tee Off In Western

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—Three former champions and another veteran pro seeking her first triumph in the tournament teed off today in the semifinals of the Women's Western Golf Open.

Patty Berg, winner in 1951, 1948, 1943 and 1941, faced Betty Jameson, who captured the crown in 1942 and was runner-up in 1952. Betty Hicks, chasing her first Western Open Crown, squared off against Louise Suggs, leading money-winner on the distaff circuit this season.

Yesterday's Games—League's Top Teams All Are Winners

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

If the Chicago White Sox intend to be pennant contenders the next time the New York Yankees come to visit, they better figure some way to beat the champs in the four-game set starting tonight.

The Yanks won't be back in Chicago until July 27 and by that time it may be too late. In fact, the way Cleveland has been going, it just might be too late for either the Yankees or the White Sox.

This is especially true since the Indians figure to tattle up on the hapless Boston Red Sox while second-place Chicago and third-place New York are tangleing with each other.

So far, Paul Richards hasn't had much luck in keeping his "go-go" Sox going against the Yankees. They won their first game with the Yankees this season, then lost six in a row before salvaging the finale of the four-game series in New York last weekend.

All three American League leaders won yesterday. Cleveland ran its winning streak to eight games by beating the Yankees 4-1, Brooklyn with a 6-4 triumph over Washington, and the White Sox outlasted Philadelphia 6-4 and New York breezed over Baltimore 9-2. Boston lost its ninth game in its last 10 starts, 2-1 to Detroit.

In the National League, the New York Giants pulled two games in front of the Brooklyn Dodgers by shading Cincinnati 2-1. Brooklyn lost to Milwaukee 6-4. Philadelphia and St. Louis played the longest game of the season—15 innings—before the Phils won 3-2 with Robin Roberts going all the way. Chicago was rained out at Pittsburgh.

Cleveland jumped away to a three-run lead in the first inning against the Senators as Frank Shea walked two men and hit one. Vic Wertz doubled and Wally Westlake singled. The Washington runs came in the seventh when Early Wynn walked the bases loaded and in the ninth on Mickey Vernon's two-run homer.

Gus Zernial, who had been feuding with Manager Eddie Joost of the Athletics, came off the bench to deliver a three-run, pinch-hit homer at Chicago. His blast off Bill Jowers a bases-empty homer by Bill Wilson. But the A's were trailing by six runs by the time they found the range and they couldn't catch up.

Baltimore's defense fell apart as the Orioles lost their third straight to the Yankees. New York wrapped it up with five runs in the sixth inning with the help of Baltimore's errors in fielding and judgment.

George Zvernick had his sinker ball working to perfection against the last-place Red Sox. He walked nobody, struck out nobody and didn't allow a hit in the last 4-2-3 innings.

The Giants beat the Redlegs without a hit. They got two singles, an hour apart, but their two runs came on a pair of walks, two errors and a force play.

Jim Wilson of the Braves, a no-hit winner his last time out, ran his string of hitless innings to 10 and scoreless innings to 24 before the Dodgers broke into the scoring column. They pounded him hard, once they started, getting seven extra-base hits. But Milwaukee was hitting for distance too, and Wilson stayed on top.

Roberts scored the winning run in the marathon at Philadelphia. He opened the 15th by walking, moved to second on a sacrifice, to third on an infield grounder and scored on a single by Del Ennis.

The Philadelphia right hander didn't walk a man in the 15 innings. He struck out seven and gave up 10 hits. Bobby Morgan forced the game into overtime with a home run off Gerry Staley with two out in the ninth. Joe Presko took over at the start of the 13th and was the loser.

The Cardinals scored their first run on a homer by Bill Sarni and their second, on singles by Red Schoendienst and Stan Musial plus a sacrifice fly by Ray Jablonski.

Roberts Scores Run to Beat Cards In 15 Innings

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Robin Roberts, a 20-game winner for the past four years, is having his toughest luck in years but he'll probably never forget last night's 3-2 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The ace righthander had to go 15 innings—longest National League game of the season—to get credit for his eighth win in 15 decisions. That's not all—he had to score the winning run to boot. And he won the game without giving up a walk.

Roberts, who had an 11-4 record this time last year, has caused

Patton Leads Open, Has Sub-par Round

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

SPRINGFIELD, N. J. (AP)—Whoever said tournament golf needed some new faces didn't reckon with the squarish, smiling face of William J. Patton, who prefers to be called Billy Joe; the thin countenance of Bob Toski; the serious, blue-eyed look of Gene Littler; or the broad-browed head of Al Mengert.

These four, hardly more than numbers on the program to most of the huge opening day crowd at Baltusrol, were right up at the top of the list as the 54th National Open Golf Championship went into its second day. The faces that drew the crowds—Ben Hogan and Sam Snead—had more or less secondary roles.

Patton, the 32-year-old Morgan-town, N. C., lumberman who probably gets more fun out of golf than any other tournament player, breathed new life into an already-tense tournament when he fired an opening round of 32-37—69 yesterday.

That was the only time tough old Baltusrol's tournament par of 34-36-70 was beaten yesterday and Billy Joe had the time of his life doing it as he slugged and scrambled his way around the 7,027-yard lower course.

One stroke behind Patton came Littler, the 1953 amateur champion, who won't be 24—nor eligible to win money in PGA tournaments—until July; Toski, 27, the leading money winner of the pro circuit; and the 34-year-old Ted Kroll, No. 4 on the money list.

Defending champion Hogan and Ed Furgol, an experienced tournament player, were tied at 71 with 25-year-old Mengert, a pro less than two years.

Snead, still suffering from a painful stiff neck and hitting some of his long shots badly, wound up in the 72 bracket with a flock of others, including three former champions, Lew Worsham, Lloyd Mangrum and Cary Middlecoff.

It still was anybody's tournament and when someone asked Hogan if he'd settle for three more 71s, he grimly replied:

"I wouldn't settle for anything. I'm here to play. That's my business."

Zulueta and Gonsalves Rated Even Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—Lightweight contenders Orlando Zulueta of Cuba and Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland, Calif., are rated even for their ten round television bout at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The bout starts at 8 p.m. (CST). The 25-year-old Zulueta is the second ranking contender and Gonsalves is ranked third. The winner may get a shot at the victor of the lightweight title fight between Champion Paddy De Marco and Jimmy Carter.

Zulueta has won four in a row this year and now has a 50-19-9 record. Gonsalves, with two straight wins, has a 36-8-1 slate.

Babe Ruth Games Tonight at Park

Two games will be played in the Babe Ruth League tonight on the Liberty Park diamond. Western Auto and Brown's Supply meet at 6:30 and Phillips 66 plays Taystee Bread at 8:15.

umps to grow in the throats of Philadelphia Phillies fans this season. Of the seven games he's lost, three have been shutouts and his mates tallied only six runs in the other four losses.

Last night the Phillies' attack was only a little better. For the first eight innings they could collect only an unearned run off the Cards' Gerry Staley while Roberts was limiting St. Louis to a respectable two runs. Bobby Morgan's two-out homer in the last of the ninth sent it into extra innings and Roberts stayed in.

Roberts led off the 15th with a walk and scored the winning run on Del Ennis' single to center after moving to third on a sacrifice and an infield out.

Declares Two Mail Deliveries Is 'Dead'

ST. LOUIS — Charles E. Puskar, secretary of the National Assn. of postmasters, says two daily mail deliveries in residential areas is a "dead issue."

Puskar, postmaster at Imperial, Pa., made the statement in an interview here yesterday while attending the annual meeting of the Missouri chapter of the postmasters association.

"Postmasters have received very, very few requests for twice-a-day deliveries," Puskar said, "after patrons found they get good service from once-a-day delivery."

See $58 Million Gain for Missouri In Reallocation

JEFFERSON CITY — A net total of $58.4 million dollars now going to the federal government could be retained in Missouri by eliminating certain federal taxes and grants and placing old-age assistance and aid to dependent children under the federal Old Age and Survivors Insurance program, the Missouri State Chamber of Commerce says. It has made this recommendation to the federal commission on inter-governmental relations.

Under the proposal federal taxes of 71.3 million dollars now being collected in Missouri would be discontinued and these tax sources made available to the state. These are taxes on admissions, club dues and initiation fees, local telephone services, coin-operated amusement and gaming devices, leases of safe deposit boxes, bowling alleys and pool tables, unemployment and estates and gifts.

Federal grants now made to Missouri which would be eliminated total $89.9 million. But if old-age assistance and aid to dependent children were taken over by the federal government the net loss to Missouri in federal grants would be only $12.9 million, the Chamber says, basing its figures on United States Treasury reports for the fiscal year 1953.

The state's gain in possible tax revenues amount to $71.3 million less the net loss of $12.9 million in federal grants leaves a net gain of $58.4 million, the Chamber says.

The plan would restore to the states six welfare and educational functions now carried on by the federal government, as proposed by the Hoover Commission task force. Federal grants that would be eliminated are those for public assistance, maternal and child services, colleges for agriculture and mechanic arts, vocational training, unemployment and school lunches. The task force also proposed other functions to be left primarily with the federal government and still others be assigned jointly to the states and the federal government.

The Chamber says federal public assistance grants to Missouri for the aged and for dependent

MKT Will Begin New Piggy-Back Service July 6

ST. LOUIS — Inauguration of piggy-back service by the Missouri - Kansas - Texas Railroad Company on Tuesday, July 6, between Kansas City and Oklahoma City will proceed as scheduled, Donald V. Fraser, president of the Katy, announced today.

The Interstate Commerce Commission's order of June 15 delaying by seven months the start of piggy-back operations by six other railroads does not affect the proposed Katy service, Mr. Fraser said.

He said that Katy legal and traffic representatives discussed children total about $57.2 million dollars a year. It is proposed that these benefits be paid through the OASI system at no additional cost to the state.

Under the proposed plan the Chamber says the 48 states would retain a net total of 1.4 billion now going to the federal government in taxes.

the order informally with staff members of the ICC and have been assured that the order does not apply to the type of services the M-K-T will offer.

The Katy will carry common carrier motor truck trailers on flat cars between the two terminals for a flat charge per trailer per mile, and will carry its own trailers between the two cities as well.

The ICC order suspended proposed tariffs of the other railroads until Jan. 15. President Fraser pointed out that the Katy is not required to file new tariffs with the ICC for the types of service it will operate.

rolong Geneva Talks

Acts for Caretaker French Government; Tells Eden, Bidault There is Still Hope

GENEVA, June 17 (AP)—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault today persuaded the West to continue the stalemated Indochina peace talks a little longer.

His own political life hanging by a parliamentary thread, Bidault acted for a caretaker French government.

He first conferred with Communist leaders here. Then he convinced British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith there is still hope for a cease-fire and a negotiated settlement in Indochina.

Bidault's swift round of diplomatic talks coincided with a request by Pierre Mendes-France for the French National Assembly's confidence as new premier on a platform of giving him until July 20 to reach an agreement for Indochina.

French observers here expressed confidence Bidault will be replaced if Mendes-France is voted in.

"He came here to confer with the conference from falling apart, and he succeeded," was the way one French official described Bidault's series of meetings here last night and early today.

In rapid succession, Bidault saw Eden and Smith last night at dinner, then conferred with leaders of Red China, Soviet Russia, and the three Associated States of Indochina this morning.

The dapper French diplomat saw Eden and Smith again just before lunch to report on his progress.

All this was sandwiched in between two airplane flights, from Paris to Geneva yesterday afternoon, and back to Paris from Geneva this afternoon to enable Bidault to attend the National Assembly debate on Mendes-France's bid for the premiership.

French sources said Eden and Smith agreed with Bidault today that the Indochina talks should be continued on a ministerial level at least through most of next week. Earlier reports had pictured Eden and Smith as ready to quit Geneva by this weekend.

Wheat Futures Slump on Grain Board of Trade

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)—All wheat futures except July slumped to new seasonal lows on the Board of Trade today as the slow but persistent mark down in value continued.

Other cereals were pretty much able to ignore wheat's weakness. Oats again were, quite firm with dealing active, responding to fears on the part of some traders that the hot weather in the Midwest was causing some damage.

July soybeans rose several cents at one time but they gave up the gain before the day was over. Rye sank with wheat while corn held steady in light dealings.

Wheat closed 3/4 to 1 1/2 cents lower, corn 1/4 to 1/2 cent higher, oats 1/4 to 3/4 cent higher, rye 1/4 cent lower to 1/2 cent higher and soybeans 1/2 cent lower to 1 1/2 cent higher.

There was nothing new in the wheat picture, which probably was the reason why the bread grain kept on going down.

Wheat was clear over much of the southwest, a favorable factor for harvesting. Flour business still was nothing to get excited about and there was no word of any exports.

Killed In Two-Car Crash Near Sallisaw

SALLISAW, Okla., June 17 (AP)—Leo Beach of Barling, Ark., was killed today in a two-car collision three miles west of here on U. S. Highway 64.

Highway Patrol Trooper William Cooper said Beach was alone in his automobile which met another head-on.

A spokesman at Sequoyah Memorial Hospital at Sallisaw said Beach died of a broken neck and internal injuries. The death sent Oklahoma's traffic fatality toll to 259 compared with 206 for last year at this time.

Drowns Swimming In Lake Near Centralia

CENTRALIA, Mo., June 17 (AP)—Billy Joe Williams, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orion Williams drowned today while swimming in Lake Dutcher, about one mile east of here.

He was swimming with two companions and disappeared at about 3:45 p. m. His body was recovered at about 4:30 p. m.

Labels McCarthy Call as Invitation To Violate Laws

BALTIMORE, June 17 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell tonight labeled as an "open invitation to violate the laws" the call by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) for federal employees to give him information, secret or not, he could use in fighting communism.

Brownell also spoke out against another McCarthy concept—that the senator should be allowed to call in government loyalty board officers for questioning on their decisions.

"No employee security program would work," the attorney general said, "if the hearing officers had to answer congressional committees on television rather than answering to their superiors in the executive department."

Brownell did not mention McCarthy by name in his remarks prepared for a convention of the National Editorial Assn. But he pinpointed the senator by quoting him. He said:

"Recently, a senator stated that he had received classified military information from 'an Army Intelligence officer.' He further stated: 'As far as I am concerned, I would like to notify two million federal employees that I feel it was their duty to give us any information which they have...'"

"This open invitation to violate the laws of the United States would substitute government by an individual for government by law."

"For there is a law, which makes it a crime for anyone who has lawfully received classified information relating to national security to turn it over to any not entitled to receive it."

Agent Cautions Use of Sprays Near Gardens

By Merle Vaughan Pettis County Agent

A lady called at my office recently to inquire what she could do about her garden. Seems that a neighbor had thoughtlessly used a volatile weed killer on poison oak and the fumes had drifted into her garden.

The tomatoes, beans, etc., were wilted down and she wondered if there was anything she could do to revive them. Apparently there isn't as these modern weed killers are designed to penetrate to the roots and complete the kill.

A profuse watering at the time of exposure might have saved them if she had known it.

There are two types of materials generally available as weed killers. They are the amines of 2, 4-D and the butyl esters of 2, 4-D. There are several strengths within each. Another material, 2, 4, 5-T, is even stronger and is used on brush.

Those who plan to spray weeds and brush that are located near susceptible plants, such as flowers, shrubs or gardens, either their own or a neighbor's, should use the amines. They are in a water solution and not nearly as volatile as the esters. Also, if a sprayer can be used rather than a hand sprayer, there will be less drifting of the spray. To be on the safe side, any such spraying should be done when the air is quiet to lessen the danger of drift. Also inquire of the salesman where the material is purchased as to use, and follow instructions.

Parade For Apparent Move On Guatemala

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, June 17 (AP)—Recruits for an apparent resistance move against Guatemala's leftist government walked Tegucigalpa's streets openly in uniform today despite a plea from the Guatemalan envoy to curb them.

Foreign correspondents in the Honduran capital were impressed by the numbers of whaki-clad men in the city and gathered at the airport. Wearing no insignia, the men boarded planes without any apparent effort to hide their movements. Reports from San Pedro Sula, a banana center 110 miles northwest of Tegucigalpa and only 25 miles from the Guatemalan border, said the resistance forces also were moving about openly there.

Guatemalan Ambassador Amadeo Chinchilla urged Honduras last night to halt the movement of men and arms to points near the common border. But usually reliable sources said Guatemalan exiles loyal to Carlos Castillo Armas, who heads the resistance movement here, still were being airlifted toward their native country.

Approves Military Program

Senate Passage Comes After Demo Plan Against Cutback

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The Senate approved a military budget of more than 29 million dollars today for the defense of the country in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Passage came on a voice vote after a Democratic attempt to add 350 million dollars and prevent a planned cutback of two divisions in the Army was defeated 50-38.

The bill carries about one-half billion dollars more than the version passed by the House April 29. But it is still below President Eisenhower's recommendations and more than five billion dollars less than Congress voted for defense last year.

Democratic senators attacked the pared-down budget as inadequate and "a desperate gamble" during the two days of debate.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.), speaking for the GOP leadership, contended it provides "the greatest protection and is suited to the administration's 'long haul' defense program. He also said it would be supplemented by about 14 1/2 billion dollars in unobligated money carried over from appropriations in previous years.

The measure, biggest of all the annual money bills, now goes back to the House for consideration of numerous changes made by the Senate.

It provides about 11 billion dollars for the Air Force, just under 10 billion for the Navy and around 7 1/2 billion for an Army of 17 divisions. The balance would go to the Defense Department and for miscellaneous activities.

Before passage, Ferguson obtained acceptance of an amendment assuring that all mail to American troops overseas will continue to go by air.

A Senate report accompanying the bill emphasized that it would serve forces such as the National Guard, the Air National Guard and the Naval Reserve will be greatly expanded in the next 12 months.

The secretary of defense was directed in the report to study the separate guided missile programs of all the services and recommend early next year some plan for coordinating them.

Puerto Rican Acquitted Of Intent to Kill

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Lolita Lebron, the flag-waving Puerto Rican extremist who helped shoot up the House of Representatives March 1, was acquitted today of having any intent to kill.

Her testimony that she fired her shots at the ceiling apparently convinced the seven men and five women on the jury that she was not as guilty as her three male colleagues.

Yesterday the jury found the 34-year-old brunette guilty of assault with a dangerous weapon. It found the three male defendants guilty of that and also guilty of assault with intent to kill.

No one was killed but five congressmen were wounded.

The jury was out for a total of 19 hours, 7 1/2 hours of it today. Mrs. Lebron, wearing the same gray suit in which she came to Washington March 1, looked extremely pale and drawn as the long deadlocked jury filed back into the courtroom to deliver its final verdict.

She and the men—Rafael Cancel Miranda, 25, Andres Figueroa Cordero, 29, and Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28—all have sworn they were just staging a demonstration when they pumped bullets into the House chamber from the visitors gallery.

They said they wanted to demonstrate in behalf of Puerto Rican independence.

While waiting for the verdict, Mrs. Lebron told newsmen that she wanted to be found as "guilty as they found the boys." They each face prison terms of as much as 75 years; the most she could get would be 50 years.

They said they wanted to demonstrate in behalf of Puerto Rican independence.

MoPac Tells of Cost Savings If Two Trains Can Be Discontinued

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—The Missouri Pacific Railroad told the State Public Service Commission today it could save from $450,000 to $600,000 a year in operational costs if allowed to discontinue passenger trains Nos. 19 and 20 between St. Louis and Kansas City.

These two trains now serve Sedalia and the City Council of Sedalia has entered a protest over their being discontinued.

Westbound 19 leaves St. Louis at 5 p. m. eastbound No. 20 leaves Kansas City at 1:45 a. m.

Residents and officials of Jefferson City, California, Washington, D. C., and Chicago, Mo., appeared to oppose the move. PSC spokesmen believed the hearing might extend beyond today.

New Wiring Program In State Buildings

JEFFERSON CITY, June 17 (AP)—Missouri came a step nearer today to discarding its worn out direct current electrical generating system here with opening the bids for the big job of converting wiring in state buildings.

Ralph McSweeney, director of the state buildings, said he hoped the successful bidder could be chosen at once so the year-long job of replacing the wiring can begin. The State Board of Public Buildings, composed of the governor, the lieutenant-governor and the attorney general, is scheduled to meet next Wednesday to consider the bids.

Apparently low bid came from Camp Electric Co., of St. Louis with a $388,000 figure. Camp did the wiring on the new Jefferson Building, the only one in the downtown capital group that is fully wired for alternating current.

Other bids: Electric Service Co., of St. Louis $422,000, J. Livingson Co. of St. Louis $516,000, and Sachs Co. of St. Louis $543,500.

The board has an appropriation of $475,000 for the job.

Reappointed Chairman Election Commissioners

JEFFERSON CITY, June 17 (AP)—Hampton S. Chambers was reappointed chairman of the Kansas City Board of Election Commissioners today by Gov. Phil M. Donnelly.

Chambers was appointed to the job a year ago to complete the term of Henry A. Reiderer, after the latter resigned to become circuit judge.

Chambers' appointment today is for a four year term.

Other appointments announced by Donnelly today included:

C. Spangnagel, from the governor's hometown of Lebanon, as a member of the State Public Buildings Board. It is a re-appointment for the Lebanon Republican.

Dr. H. J. McAnally, Kansas City Democrat, as a member of the State Board of Osteopathic Registration and Examination. He, too, was re-appointed.

Paul A. Johnson, 55, Mountain Grove Democrat, to the State Public Buildings Board, succeeding Lewis F. Reese, whose term expired.

Wanted Parole Violator And Car Thief Arrested

ASHLAND, Kan., June 17 (AP)—A California parole violator wanted for car theft at Liberal, Kan., and believed to have taken a pistol and a pair of handcuffs belonging to Sheriff Eddie Wright was arrested today at Brinkley, Ark.

He was identified by Police Chief Frank Henderson of Brinkley as Ernest Brooks, about 30, who sawed his way out of the Harper County jail at Buffalo, Okla., last Saturday night.

Brooks was arrested here last week by Sheriff Wright who said the man admitted stealing a truck at Buffalo and taking two checks from a Buffalo motor car concern. Wright said he found checks totaling $2,300 on Brooks, for instance.

BULLETIN

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano tonight retained his title by scoring a unanimous 15-round decision over Ezzard Charles in Yankee Stadium.

The votes, all for Marciano, were: Referee Ruby Goldstein 8-5-2; Judge Arthur Aidala 8-5-1, and Judge Harold Barnes 8-6-1. The AP had Marciano ahead 10-4-1.

There were no knockdowns but both were cut and bled freely. Marciano, an 18-5 favorite weighed 187 1/2, Charles 185 1/2.

Awarded $13,055 In Damage Suit

Mrs. Allene Harper, of the Harper School of Artistic Dancing, was awarded a judgment of $13,055 in her damage suit against the Associated Transports Inc., St. Louis, arising from the fatal accident to her husband Edward Harper on April 30, 1952.

The case was tried in the Clinton County circuit court Wednesday and Thursday before Judge Kimberlain, of Harrisonville, of the 17th Judicial Circuit who was hearing the case for Judge Dewey Thatch who is ill.

A jury deliberated for an hour and 3 minutes before it returned the verdict in favor of Mrs. Harper.

The accident occurred one fourth mile east of the Harper home near the junction of Highway 135 and 50, while Harper was riding his horse along the pavement of Highway 50. Harper lost his life as the horse and truck ran together, throwing Harper from his mount and the horse on top of him. He died instantly.

The transport truck carrying a load of Ford automobiles was driven by Raymond Eaton of Williamsville, Mo., and was enroute to Kansas City from St. Louis.

The Associated Transports Inc., was represented by John Martin and William Gibson of Sedalia and Barkley Brock of Clinton, while Kelso Journey and William Cason of Clinton represented Mrs. Harper.

Festus Man Files $500,000 Damage Suit

ST. LOUIS, June 17 (AP)—Ira C. Lowe of Festus, Mo., who said his lung cancer was caused by heavy cigarette smoking, today filed a $500,000 damage suit against the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. and St. Louis Market.

Lowe filed the suit in circuit court after withdrawing a similar suit for $250,000 damages against four tobacco firms—including Reynolds—and a food store chain in federal court yesterday.

The withdrawal action was made without prejudice, meaning the suit could be filed again.

Donald Siegel, Lowe's attorney, said he would not comment on the shift in courts nor on the change in defendants.

The other defendant in the new suit is Pat Mariani, operator of the shop Ezy Market here, where Lowe claims he bought the Reynolds firm's cigarettes.

Lowe, when he filed the original suit, said he smoked more than two packs of cigarettes daily from 1930 to 1952 at which time his right lung was removed after cancer was found.

Wounded In Freak Shooting Accident

DONIPHAN, June 17 (AP)—A farmer was in serious condition today from a rifle bullet wound suffered yesterday in a freak shooting accident at his farm near here.

Sam Wilson, 28, was standing about 10 feet from a tractor in which his father, William, 50, was sitting. His father stood up to shoot a rabbit. The bullet glanced off a rock or piece of metal and struck Sam below the heart.

Wilson's 'Team' In Huddle On Defense Problems

QUANTICO, Va., June 17 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's "team"—more than 160 civilian officials, generals and admirals—came to Quantico today for their second annual huddle on defense problems.

They gathered for the four-day session at this carefully guarded marine base against a background of events which included:

1. Hints that defense budget cuts have left lingering unhappiness in at least one important segment of Wilson's team, the Army.

2. Bleak news from abroad, telling of tightening pressure by the Reds on the Indochina front, of efforts to save the Geneva discussions on Indochina from complete collapse, of such concern over British-American cooperation that President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill are soon to meet to try to harmonize their policies.

All of this serves to put a premium on the military readiness of the United States, should it be confronted by actual war. Among the officials invited to the sessions were Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Allan Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

The annual reunion of the Sedalia alumni of Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, will be held tonight at 8:30 o'clock at the Bothwell Hotel, at which time Dr. George W. Diemer, president of the college, will be the principal speaker.

Dr. Diemer has gained recognition not only in the state, but also nationally and internationally for his work in the field of education. In recognition of his education service he was selected to Who's Who in America and Who's Who in American Education.

Several other members of the faculty at CMSC are expected to be present.

A varied program has been planned for the evening. The officers of the Sedalia alumni are: Mrs. George Loveland, president; Mrs. J. W. Rahn, vice-president; Mrs. Bob E. Mrs. James M. Phillips

Ruthanne Zulauf's Marriage Takes Place On Her Parents' Anniversary

On their 27th wedding anniversary, June 5, Mr. and Mrs. John Zulauf, 1001 South Harrison, gave their daughter, Ruthanne, in marriage to Mr. James M. Phillips, son of Mr. C. K. Phillips, Flora, Ill.

The impressive ceremony was solemnized at the Broadway Presbyterian Church at 7 o'clock in the evening before an altar banked with candelabra holding white candles and floral arrangements of white gladioli and giant daisies. Dr. Ray Zinser, a graduate of the Reorganized Latter Day Saints Church, administered the vows, assisted by the Rev. D. Warren Neal, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian Church. The double ring service was used.

Miss Nan Bayless, Wichita, Kansas, sang, "Through the Years," "O, Perfect Love" and "The Pledge." Organ music was played throughout the ceremony.

The gown worn by the bride was of white tulle over ice blue taffeta. It was designed with a slim waist, cap sleeves and full skirt that lengthened into a train in the back. Rows of embroidered daisies were down the skirt and extended the length of the train. The yoke, too, was outlined with embroidered daisies. Her fingertip veil, embroidered with daisies, was attached to an open Juliet crown, and she carried a bouquet of daisies with satin streamers.

Miss Gwen Manning, Cincinnati, Ohio, was maid of honor. She and the bridesmaids, Miss Kay Beth Sublett and Miss Bonnie Haggard, were identically gowned in formal of blue rice taffeta, chapel length, and carried colonial bouquets of white and blue daisies.

The candlelighters, Miss Carolyn and Marian Zulauf of Springfield, and Cheryl Knapp of Tipton, wore gowns similar to those of the bridesmaids.

Colleagues and friends of the bridegroom served as groomsmen and ushers. Mr. Ron Bruch, Cameron, was best man, Mr. Bill Hemphill and Mr. Mart Haycock, both of Flora, were groomsmen, and Mr. Jack Thatcher, Flora, Ill., and Mr. Dick Self, Cameron, were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother selected a navy blue two-piece silk linen dress and with it wore white accessories. Corsages for both the mother and the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Ida Bowline, were of white daisies.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents from 8:30 to 10:30 p. m. with Mr. and Mrs. Zulauf, Mr. Phillips, the bride and bridegroom, the maid of honor and bridesmaids in the receiving line.

The wedding cake, fruit punch and mints were served by Mrs. Emmett Fairfax, Mrs. Thomas Lee, Miss Pat Callis and Miss Pat Keating. Mrs. Scott Spragg presided over the guest book. Miss Anna Zulauf and Mrs. Olive Reine arranged the gifts.

Mrs. Zulauf was assisted by Mrs. P. J. Bowline, Carrollton, Mrs. LeRoy Hunt, Independence, Mrs. Virgil Butterworth, Windsor, and Mrs. Charles Alden, Sedalia, at the reception.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Phillips were graduated from Graceland College, Lamoni, Ia., on May 28, 1954. Mrs. Phillips is a graduate of Smith-Cotton High School with the class of 1952. She is attending summer classes at Central Missouri State College, Warrensburg, and has contracted to teach Camp Branch School next term. Mr. Phillips, a graduate of Flora High School, is employed at the Sedalia Neon Company and plans to study at Warrensburg next winter. They are at home at 237 1/2 South Prospect.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were: Mr. C. K. Phillips, Flora, Ill., and Mrs. M. E. Mortimore, Lamoni, Ia., Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Ross, Warrenville, Ill., Miss Nan Bayless, Wichita, Kan., Dr. Roy Zinser, Lamoni, Ia., Mr. Ron Bruch, Cameron, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Zulauf and daughters, Carolyn and Marian, Springfield, Mo., and Mrs. Howard Bell, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy V. Hunt, Independence, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Glova Snorgaard, Kansas City; Miss Irene Butterworth, Windsor; Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Tising and daughters, Beverly and Sandra, High Point; Mr. and Mrs. Farris Selch, son, Bill and daughter, Dorothy Ann, Woolbridge, Mo.; Mr. William Armohundro, St. Louis, Mo.; Mr. George Deuel, Kansas City, Mo. and Mrs. P. The Central Missouri Chinchilla Club met June 5 at the home of Mrs. W. A. Johns, 1520 West Broadway, for a covered dish dinner with 20 members present.

Dr. A. E. Schumacher, Liberty, who for many years has had an experimental herd of chinchillas, was the speaker. Much information on chinchillas and the industry was given by Dr. Schumacher and he explained how the chinchilla differs from other small animals and why. He also told of preparation for the first pet sale which will be June 21 in New York City. The next sale will be in June, 1955.

The speaker also told the group how to prepare pelts and gave a demonstration of pelting. Dr. Schumacher is one of the oldest and most experienced in chinchilla raising and is in great demand as a speaker for shows and conventions. He has just returned from a trip to the west coast. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Paul LaRue, Lee's Summit, Mrs. Jim Cole and Mrs. Russell Rhoades, all of Sedalia.

The short business meeting was presided over by Earl Horton, La Monte, president.

La Monte Youth Returns Home From H-Tests

Edgar C. Ziebelbein, 23, son of Charles Ziebelbein, formerly of La Monte and now of Knob Noster, returned home May 28 after serving as a machinist's mate third class aboard the escort carrier USS Bairoko, which took part in the hydrogen bomb tests in the Bikini atoll.

This was Edgar's third cruise. Previously he went to Japan and Korea.

When the carrier first docked in the United States after returning from the H-bomb tests at Bikini, it was kept under a shroud of secrecy and no reporters or photographers were permitted aboard. The 557-foot, 10,900-ton craft, with a normal complement of 1,800 officers and men, carried on its deck Marine helicopters, Navy all-weather fighter planes and Thunderbolts, but no other details were discernible. Personnel aboard ship were not permitted to divulge any information about the tests.

Public Library Notes--

Help for Club Officials Will Be Found In Many Books

Help for group leaders, club members, chairmen and other club officials are contained in a large number of books at the Public Library. One of the newest of these is "Guide Lines for Group Leaders," the Why and How of Group Work, by Janet P. and Clyde E. Murray. This book deals with and answers the thousand-and-one problems that face the men and women in positions of group responsibility who have not had special training in social work. It tells how to conduct successful programs of every type, whether your work is with scout troops, youth organizations, churches, camps, community centers or what-not.

More specialized is "The Clubwoman's Book," and Avery and Nye, also new at the library. The ten million clubwomen in America today will find "The Clubwoman's Book" a valuable source of information for advice on all their club activities, regardless of the kind or size of the organization—programming, administration, finances, committee, budgets, refreshments, memberships, attendance, public relations, fund raising—and on up to club participation in national and world affairs. For the new officers unsure of exact procedure, this book will save both time and labor.

Both men and women who hold positions in public life which make it their duty occasionally to introduce a speaker will find the reference volume, "I Am Happy to Present," by Lyle and Guinagh, a happy new addition to the library. Unless the individual makes his link by talking, as lawyers, ministers and teachers do, he is apt to begin both mentally and physically "walking the floor," when he is called upon to make an important introduction. Since our social conventions require that a guest speaker be properly presented to his audience, and the presentation may have much to do with the success of the meeting, "I Am Happy to Present" includes pointers on this art as well as countless examples.

Further aid to chairmen is presented in "How to Plan Meetings

Four Missourians Get Honor Degrees at MU Commencement

President Frederick A. Middlebush conferred degrees on more than 1300 graduates at the 112th annual commencement exercises held by the University of Missouri in Columbia Saturday morning. Included in this number were 280 graduates who received diplomas in February.

The commencement address was delivered by Ernest R. Breech, executive vice-president of the Ford Motor Co., who was one of the four Missourians who received honorary degrees of Doctor of Laws at the exercises.

Talking on "Breaking Through the Barrier," Breech advised the graduates to build their careers on service to others and to avoid making a "fetish" of financial security.

The prominent Ford executive, son of a Lebanon, (Mo.) blacksmith, said the nation's greatest men were no self-seekers, and were dedicated to the needs of others. To serve the same high purpose, he said, an individual should strive to do better in his chosen career than any of those who have gone before him.

Injured were: Thomas P. "Dolly" Farris, 40, 815 East 11th, suffered a fracture of the right knee, possible fracture of the left elbow, and multiple bruises.

Thomas Charles Farris, five, son of Mr. and Mrs. Farris, suffered a dislocation of the right hip, severe laceration of left inside part of the knee, abrasion on the forehead and bruises.

Robert Billingsley, 22, 1615 East Fourth, suffered severe lacerations about his scalp, head, and face, possible internal injuries, and severe shock.

Donald L. Moore, 23, 1506 South Vermont, suffered a possible fracture of the right knee, probable fracture of the back, cut on the point of his chin, cut over the left eye, and scalp abrasions. He was also in severe shock.

The accident occurred as Mr. Farris was driving north on Highway 65 headed toward Sedalia, in his 1953 Ford sedan, and the Plymouth convertible, believed to have been driven by Donald Moore, was headed southwest on the blacktop pavement.

Plymouth Tries To Stop Trooper Earl Gregory of the State Highway Patrol reported the driver of the Plymouth made an endeavor to stop at the stop sign, as there were skid marks for 177 feet. The driver, apparently came upon the intersection too quick, and unable to stop the car it skidded onto the concrete highway just as Farris car came from the south.

The left front of the Plymouth and the right front portion of the Ford crashed together. Farris' car swerved to the west for 33 feet from the pavement and struck a concrete culvert. The convertible skidded about 23 feet and just off the pavement and flipped over on its top. One of the occupants of the open car was thrown out on the highway. One of the women in the Farris car was thrown from the car.

Mrs. Farris is believed to have been killed as she struck the windshield.

Mr. Farris was crammed against the steering wheel as it crashed into the culvert. His son was thrown against the dash of the car.

J. W. Simmons, a resident residing nearby to the scene of the accident remarked he heard "tires squealing, then a terrible crash." He hurried to the scene to give what assistance he could.

W. L. Scott, Kansas City, was driving south on the highway and commented that he saw the Plymouth coming toward the west, but said he was concentrating on the oncoming car and did not actually see the crash. "It happened like the snap of your fingers," Scott reported.

Scott said he was driving about 30 miles and hour and had enough time to stop within about 50 feet of the wreckage. He was accompanied by Mrs. Scott and their two children. He reported as the Plymouth turned over there was a terrific flash as the car skidded on the pavement.

Marvin Mallory Will Open New Pastry Shop

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mallory and their three children, formerly of Topeka, Kan., have moved to Sedalia, where Mr. Mallory will open a modern pastry shop where the present Kroger Food Store is now located on Ohio.

Mallory, a baker for 29 years, spent most of that time in Cameron, Mo., moving to Topeka two years ago to enter the cattle business. He soon wished to return to his original profession, however, and sought a location.

Sedalia was not his first choice. Mallory first thought seriously of going to Emporia, Kan., which appealed to him because of its wide streets. During the family's frequent trips to the Lake of the Ozarks, however, he stopped in Sedalia and decided to make his home here.

"Sedalia is the first town in my life," he said, "in which the people will speak to you when you are a complete stranger."

About choosing Sedalia rather than Emporia, Kan., he said, "It takes more than wide streets to make a town friendly."

His shop, which will occupy half of the present Kroger building, will specialize in fine pastries at popular prices. He is planning an attractive interior decor. Mallory states that after he becomes established, he hopes to have special items for each day of the week, so that customers will know when their "favorites" will be available.

Mallory expects to open his shop about the first part of July.

He and his family are now living at 634 East 15th. The three children are Michael, 7, Bob, 4, and Cindy, 2.
